LUNGHAI RAIL LINE FOCUS OF NEW CONFLICT

Japanese Are Nearing Domination of Shantung

Shanghai, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Chinese reinforcement pushed into southern Shantung province today to meet advancing Japanese who threatened the Lunghai railroad, China's east-west lifeline.

Japanese forces were approaching Suichow, important Lunghai junction point in northern Kinagso province, from both the north and south.

In addition, Chinese said, Japanese transports had arrived at Haichow, eastern terminus of the line some 125 miles northeast of Suichow, to land bluejackets for a drive inland.

Japanese announced unresisted occupation of Tsingtao, Shanghai province seaport from which Chinese forces had evacuated by December 31.

In Shanghai, a hand grenade was thrown at a group of Italian troops on the international settlement boundary in a continuation of Chinese terrorist activity against tightening Japanese control. No one was injured.

Amazon to Arms

Hankow, Jan. 10.—(AP)—China's Amazon warriors took the field today against the Japanese invaders.

The Kwangsi women's battalion, made up of 150 young women specially picked for their bravery, physical fitness, general fitness, general intelligence and marksmanship, arrived here after a grueling 600-mile march for service on the northern front.

half million Chinese were in full retreat along the entire North China front. The Chinese were said to have been demoralized by repeated air bombardment and Japanese infantry advances.

Japanese warplanes in weekend bombardments raided Nanchang, Kiangsi province capital 350 miles southwest of Shanghai, and Nanning, Kwangsi province capital 1,000 miles southwest of Shanghai.

The Nanchang raid was described by the Japanese naval spokesman as the heaviest of the war, with 50 planes attacking the Chinese airbase, the spokesman referred to as "the principal Chinese air base."

The spokesman announced that hangars and the military academy at Nanking were destroyed and six Chinese planes shot down. One French Catholic priest, a Father Martin, was said to have been killed in the Nanning raid and another was reported wounded.

Mrs. Lucy Sweetman Dies At Hospital

Mrs. Lucy L. Sweetman passed away at the Katherine Shaw Bethel hospital this morning at 4 o'clock after a short illness. She is survived by the following: Mrs. Pearl Smith of Washington, D. C., Mrs. Lucy Black of Dixon, Charles H. Sweetman of Mt. Pleasant, Ia., and Walter B. Sweetman of Park Ridge, Ill. Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at the Melvin funeral home and at 2:30 from the Christian church, the pastor, Rev. James A. Barnett officiating. Interment will be in Oakwood. The deceased was preceded in death by Mrs. Glen Pelton, Mrs. Robert Walker and George B. Sweetman.

Plans of Two Youths to Hunt for $7,000 Bank Robbery Loot Failed

Waukegan, Ill., Jan. 10.—(AP)—The plans of two Oshkosh, Wis., youths to hunt for $7,000 in bank robbery loot they believed was buried along the Iowa-Missouri border were interrupted by their arrest by Chief Deputy Sheriff Thomas E. Kennedy of Lake county.

Seized in a stolen automobile near here yesterday, Kennedy said the pair told him they were Wilbur Wicklund, 18, son of the Rev. Edward R. Wicklund of the St. John's Evangelical church, Oshkosh, and Rowen Duhm, 23, who said he was paroled from the Mis-

Chief Is Happy

Champaign, Ill., Jan. 10.—(AP)—Drivers for two cab companies pondered the wisdom of boycotts today. Irked at the Illinois Central railroad for actual or fancied rebuffs, the drivers decided to park their cabs a block from the station and let railway patrons desiring their services walk a bit.

Chief of Police Roy Argo, happy at the lack of traffic congestion on the narrow street, indicated he might make the innovation permanent.

WHEELER HITS GIVING LOANS TO RAILROADS

Washington, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.) criticizing the Interstate Commerce Commission's finance division for approving RFC loans to certain railroads, urged today that the commission be reorganized.

Wheeler, chairman of a Senate committee investigating rail finances, said the finance division approved a $6,000,000 loan recently by the RFC to the Erie railroad "when the facts showed beyond question that the Erie needed reorganization."

A few days after the commission's approval, Wheeler added, the Chesapeake & Ohio refused to guarantee the loan.

"The RFC was therefore unable to advance the money and the Erie defaulted on its bond interest, which is, of course, the usual first step toward receivership," he said.

Had 'Clear Bills'

"The St. Paul, the Chicago & North Western and other railroads received a clean bill of financial health from this same division and loans from the RFC, and within a few months thereafter they went into receivership."

Wheeler called the Baltimore & Ohio, which recently obtained a $8,000,000 loan, "an even more glaring case."

Wheeler asserted the collateral for former RFC loans to the B. & O. now has a market value of less than the amount of the loans and that collateral for the $8,233,000 loan is worth $2,000,000 less than the loan.

Mrs. David Smith Died Saturday Eve

Mrs. David Smith passed away Saturday evening at 6 o'clock at her home, 315 Seventh street, after an illness of three days' duration. She is survived by her husband; two daughters, Doris and Ruth at home; and five sons, Kenneth, Edward, Louis and Donald of Dixon, and James of Decatur. Her mother, Mrs. Cora Longshore, of Dixon, one sister, Mrs. W. J. Henderson of East St. Louis and two grand daughters will be conducted from the home Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock with interment in Oakwood.

Wichita, Kan., Jan. 10.—(AP)—For a child's smile—$30,000.

That's what Mrs. E. M. Sifer asked in a damage suit against C. G. Hilligoss. She charged her 3-year-old daughter, Charlotte, "never will be able to smile again" because nerves in her face were severed in an accident involving Hilligoss' car.

17-YEAR-OLD 4-H CLUB BOY IS ILL. CORN KING

Lad Also Wins Title of "Corn Prince" U. O. Home Week

Urbana, Ill., Jan. 10.—(AP)—A 17-year-old Four-H club boy, Karl Wessbecker of Mt. Pulaski, Ill., today won the double titles of Illinois corn king and prince.

Announcement of his championship achievement was made at opening sessions of the five-day farm and home week program at the University of Illinois' College of Agriculture. Officials said it was the first time in many years a Four-H club member had won the title of king.

Wessbecker's sample scored 84, based on physical appearance and germination. This led all entries in both the adult and junior classes, which gave him the twin titles.

Loe Roeschke of Graymont, whose sample scored 83.8, placed second in the adult class.

The competition was on 1937 products and was sponsored by the College of Agriculture.

10-Acre Contest

Jack Berkes of Maple Park was announced as the winner of a 10-acre corn growing contest sponsored by the college and the Illinois Crop Improvement Association.

He defeated 39 contestants with a score of 87.65 on the basis of field, quality and cost of production. J. W. Woodburn of Hillsdale was second with a score of 84.

More than 300 separate sessions were scheduled for the farm-home program, with topics of interest to women given a prominent place.

First day speakers included Dr. Nathan Sinal of the division of hygiene and public health of the University of Michigan, and Ralph Allen of Delavan, Ill., 1912 graduate of the College of Agriculture.

'Need Leadership'

R. W. Bartlett, assistant chief in agricultural economics at the college, said farmers' cooperative dairy marketing groups needed "vigorous leadership" to initiate "such cold-blooded changes as lowering production costs, lowering transportation and distribution costs, perfecting price plans and increasing the consumption of dairy products."

He said this leadership should replace "emotional combats such as milk strikes, mass meetings and newspaper barages."

Palmyra Man Hurt Slightly in Auto Accident Saturday

Theodore Behrends, Palmyra township farmer, narrowly escaped being instantly killed Saturday evening about 10:30 as he was returning to his home south of Gap Grove from Dixon at the dangerous Carlson curve from the east, when lights of a car coming from the opposite direction blinded him.

His car left the paving, hurdled a ditch, then crashed into a large tree in the front yard of the Carlson farm. The force of the impact threw him from the car to the ground. He was carried into the Carlson home and a physician was summoned and the sheriff's office notified of the accident. Mr. Behrends suffered numerous cuts and bruises but was not seriously injured and after receiving first aid medical attention, proceeded to Sterling with members of his family. Sheriff Miller and Deputy Finch went to the scene to investigate the accident, state highway police later taking charge of the wreckage, the Behrends car being practically demolished.

Proposed War Referendum Amendment Is Shelved By Vote of House, 209 to 188

President's Letter Read by Speaker Bankhead

Washington, Jan. 10.—(AP)—The house shelved the proposed war referendum amendment to the Constitution today, voting against floor consideration of the proposal.

Speaker Bankhead announced the vote against the referendum was 209 to 188.

The motion went down to defeat shortly after the house had heard Speaker Bankhead read a letter from President Roosevelt condemning the amendment offered by Representative Ludlow (D-Ind.).

His resolution would have authorized a Constitutional amendment, which three-fourths of the state would have to approve, calling for approval by the people in a national election before the United States could declare war.

President Roosevelt and house leaders appealed, before the vote, for defeat of the proposal.

Warning of President

The president warned that it would "cripple any president" in his conduct of our foreign relations.

It also would encourage other nations, the president said in a letter to Speaker Bankhead which was read to the house, "to believe that they could violate American rights with impunity."

"The letter was read shortly before house members were scheduled to vote on a motion to call a war referendum amendment for consideration."

The text:

"January 6, 1938.

"My dear Mr. Speaker:

"In response to your request for an expression of my views respecting the proposed resolution calling for a referendum vote as a prerequisite for a declaration of war, I must frankly state that I consider that the proposed amendment would be impracticable in its application and incompatible with our representative form of government."

'Would Cripple President'

"Our government is conducted by the people through representatives of their own choosing. It was with singular unanimity that the founders of the public agreed upon such free and representative form of government as the only practical means of government by the people."

"Such an amendment to the Constitution as that proposed would cripple any president in his conduct of our foreign relations, and it would encourage other nations to believe that they could violate American rights with impunity."

"I fully realize that the sponsors of this proposal sincerely believe that it would be helpful in keeping the United States out of war. I am convinced it would have the opposite effect."

"Yours very sincerely

(Signed)

"FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT."

The referendum steering committee decided during the morning to propose two principal amendments to the original proposal by Rep. Ludlow (D-Ind.).

Amendments to Proposal

One would exempt both American continents from the legislation and the other would provide that the proposed Constitutional amendment be ratified by the states in Constitutional conventions.

Bankhead left the rostrum to read the president's letter and to speak against the referendum. It was one of the rare instances he had taken the floor to discuss pending legislation.

Asserting he left his place as an impartial presiding officer, with the deepest regret, to speak against the legislation, the speaker said:

"I measure my words, my friends, when I say that in my opinion this is the gravest question that has been submitted to the Congress since I became a member of the House 20 years ago."

He then described the referendum as a "radical and revolutionary attack on the fundamental basic principle of representative democracy."

President Loves Peace

"I am unwilling," he continued, "that my colleagues abandon the judgment of the framers of our Constitution and say the people no longer are willing to trust their chosen representatives—or the views of the chief executive of the United States, who loves peace as much as any man in the world."

Four peace groups wrote congressmen yesterday the referendum would serve notice on other nations that if the United States

SENSATIONAL CADDY DIVORCE CASE DEADLOCK

Cruelty Contention, Cross Bill Meet Court's Frown

Chicago, Jan. 10.—(AP)—The divorce court battle of Mrs. Mary Catherine Cady who charged her husband, Glen, with cruelty by means of overly-ardent lovemaking, ended in a draw today.

Circuit Court Judge John Prystalski ruled there was insufficient evidence and dismissed both the suit of Mrs. Cady, 28, formerly of Flora, Ill., for separate maintenance and the cross bill of Cady, 34, a high school bookkeeping teacher here, for divorce.

The court held Cady's allegations of cruelty—via kicks, bites and only one egg instead of two, or more, for breakfast—were not substantiated by the evidence.

Concerning "the wife's allegation that Cady made love to her too thoroughly and too often, the judge said:

Court Upholds Hubby

"It is not the duty of the court to regulate the duties of the husband and wife. To justify a finding for separate maintenance, the evidence must show that the husband's conduct was such as to endanger the life of the wife, or to make her life unbearable."

The courtroom was jammed, presumably by the fans who followed the protracted testimony last week, when some 19 love letters, some with poems enclosed, written by Cady were introduced. He had sought reconciliation during estrangement which began on April 16. They were married Dec. 20, 1935.

Mrs. Cady's attorney, Frank B. Teed, said she was in Flora today, in bed and ill "with worry and suspense."

After the decision was read, Cady, who testified during the trial he still loved Mary Catherine and wanted her back, announced he would file another petition for divorce, on the grounds of desertion, next summer after a full year from their final separation.

Sterling and Rockford Cars Collided

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stone of Rockford and Mrs. and Mrs. Ralph Mike and family of Sterling, suffered minor cuts and bruises in a collision of two automobiles on the Lincoln highway at the Twin City Golf club Sunday morning shortly after 10 o'clock. The cars were going in opposite directions when the Rockford machine was reported to have skidded on the slippery paving, crashing into the Sterling car.

State Officers Mahan and Flach were called to the scene and removed the injured persons to Sterling and directed the removal of the cars which were considerably damaged.

SNOWFALL OF SUNDAY MORN WAS GENERAL

Traffic Fatalities Reported in State Yesterday

Chicago, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Forecaster J. R. Lloyd said today a snow storm "of major importance" was approaching the Great Lakes region from the northwest.

An area of low barometric pressure centered early today over Saskatchewan and Alberta, Can., and developed in intensity as it moved southeastward, he said.

Pressure dropped rapidly in the far northwestern states, the Missouri valley and Minnesota.

Lloyd said the snow probably would reach Chicago tomorrow.

In its wake Lloyd predicted a cold snap. Chicago had 4.9 inches of snow since yesterday.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Five inches of snow covered the ground and the weather was cold, but at the Brookfield Zoo Director Edward Bean reported the walrus stayed indoors, polar bears refused to break the ice in their pool (until coaxed with crackers) and the Russian Tigers, who ordinarily relish zero weather, refused to leave their lairs.

The ostriches from the tropics, however, gambled in the snow, Bean said.

14 TRAFFIC DEATHS

Chicago, Jan. 10.—(AP)—A general snowfall over the state was blamed by authorities today for most of the 14 traffic fatalities recorded in a week-end survey by The Associated Press.

For the first time in several months, downstate Illinois accounted for most of the deaths, eight, compared with Chicago's six.

Two Kankakee youths died after their car skidded and overturned near St. Anne. Robert Heine, 20, was found dead in the machine several hours after the accident was believed to have occurred, and Laverne Dailey, 19, died 20 hours later in a Kankakee hospital.

Two more youths were killed in similar accident near DuQuoin. Wilson Moore, 19, of Whittington, and Delbert Imboden, 21, of Ben-

Jury Empanelled For Damage Suit Against Dixon

A jury was selected in the Circuit court this morning in the damage suit brought by the George DeLew company of Chicago against the city of Dixon, in an effort to recover damages claimed in the sum of more than $5,000. The plaintiffs seek to recover fees claimed in preparing plans and specifications for the sewage treatment plant, which were abandoned by the present council, which later entered into contract with the Wells Engineering Company of Geneva to furnish plans and specifications under which the plant was constructed.

Attorney George F. Mason of Chicago and Robert L. Bracken of this city appear for the plaintiff and City Attorney Martin Gannon and Clyde Smith represent the city.

The jury for the trial term reported at 10 o'clock this morning and an even dozen members sought to be excused. Judge Harry Edwards after hearing the excuses released nine members of the panel. A jury was selected in the DeLew case and the taking of testimony started at 1:30 this afternoon.

Washington—The man preparing the President's monopoly curbs, to be sent to Congress next month, is his No. 1 trust-buster and candidate for governor in New York—Assistant Attorney General Robert H. Jackson.

Actually Roosevelt gave him this assignment last October after returning from the transcontinental trip, and Jackson has been working on it since. The material he uses in his radio blasts is the result of these researches.

The government's own experience with price-fixing has been the best laboratory. Here are some of the facts uncovered by Jackson.

Fifty-nine bids received by the navy for steel pipe were identical to the last penny—each $16,901.83.

Forty bids from cement companies didn't deviate a fraction—each was precisely $17,148.60.

In Denver 14 out of 117 bids for reinforcement bars were exactly the same.

In Los Angeles 11 out of 12 bids were identical.

Articles on which the government repeatedly has received similar bids are: tires, various steel products, paper products, brass and bronze products, greases, explosives, machinery, office supplies, photographic equipment, laboratory and medical supplies, plumbing materials, fire extinguishing apparatus, lumber.

In framing a legislative program, Jackson is aiming at two objectives: (1) strengthening the anti-trust laws; (2) strengthening the enforcement powers and machinery of the government.

Insufficient

Privately, neither the President nor Jackson consider the Borah-O'Mahoney bill, for federal licensing of corporations engaged in interstate commerce, strong enough to accomplish either of these ends.

They have no objection to the legislation as far as it goes, but they don't think it goes far enough.

At a recent Cabinet meeting, when the measure was brought up by Vice President Garner, Roosevelt of rved, "the bill is an advance insofar as it does away with cer-

RECORD SPEED SET BY BOMBER COAST-TO-COAST

Langley Field, Va., Jan. 10.—(AP)—To demonstrate the "ease" with which Uncle Sam's air force can shift its strength from one coast to the other in time of emergency, Lieut. Col. Robert Olds yesterday brought a 16-ton "flying fortress" from California to Virginia in 11 hours and one minute.

The commander of the U. S. second bombardment group raced eastward at over 11,000 feet behind the big plane's motors to establish what headquarters at the air base here said was a transcontinental record for military aircraft.

With him when he left March field, Calif., at 11:12 p. m., CST, was Brig.-Gen. Delos C. Emmons, commander of the first wing of the general headquarters force here, and other officers. They put the "flying fortress," which carries machine guns for its own defense, down at Langley field at 10:13 a. m.

Olds piloted the bomber westward to March field Thursday in 13 hours and 27 minutes, making flying time on the round trip of an estimated 4,634 miles 24 hours and 28 minutes.

"It demonstrates," Olds said, "the strides made in the equipment and training of the general headquarters air force, as well as the ease with which either coast can be reinforced if the tactical units are supplied with air units of similar type."

The trip, he said, was "uneventful."

Chicagoans Hurt in Franklin Accident

Nick Mammias of Chicago suffered a fracture of the right leg at the knee and several broken ribs and cuts and bruises, and Tom Kallanos, also of Chicago, sustained a broken nose and cuts and bruises in an automobile accident on the Lincoln highway in Franklin Grove Sunday morning at 10:15. The two Chicagoans were enroute to Dixon, returning children to the Dixon State hospital, who had been permitted to go to their homes in Chicago for the holidays.

The car skidded on the paving and crashed into a power line pole. The children escaped with minor cuts and bruises and State Officers Mahan and Flach took all of the occupants to the Institution hospital ward, later taking the two men to the Katherine Shaw Bethel hospital in this city. The car, which was badly damaged, was removed to a garage.

tain abuses under the present system of incorporation, but its fails completely to strike at the root of the monopoly problem—concentration of wealth and economic control. That is what we must go after if anything is to be done about monopoly. This bill does not meet that need.

Garner, too, was skeptical about the measure. He is reported to have been commissioned by Roosevelt to talk to Borah and O'Mahoney about their bill. That is not so. The President has not asked him to do any contacting.

Garner is an old anti-monopolist, is eager for new legislation, and has talked to the two Senators about their proposal, but solely to inform himself. They are anxious to get him on their side, but so far he has kept them at arm's length.

Note: The Borah-O'Mahoney bill is a composite of two measures originally sponsored separately by the two authors. Privately, Borah is not overly enthusiastic about certain features of O'Mahoney's bill.

Miss Perkins' Pictures

It may be because she is a lady but after nearly five years as a cabinet member, Madame Perkins still is camera shy. She no longer runs away from the camera, but she is sensitive to the proper pose as a prima donna.

She has two standing rules for cameramen. One is, no profile shots. She is convinced that her features are not most favorable when seen in profile. So all current photos of Madame Secretary show her looking full into the camera.

Second rule is, no action shots. At the recent conference of mayors in Washington, she submitted to the flashlights before beginning a speech, but when one cameraman lingered to get her in action, she refused to speak until he had been ousted.

Once when she was submitting to the cameras while seated at a desk, a tall photographer stooped low and aimed his camera on a level with her face. He wanted to avoid a high spot, which would have focused the top of her head.

But Madame Perkins thought

SUFFER FROM NERVES?

Dr. Pincus's Nervine Prescription seemed to be just what I needed. It stimulated my appetite and gave me strength. Buy it in liquid or tablet form from your druggist today. New size, tablets 50c."

there was a trick in it. "You mustn't do that," she admonished. "You're taking an unfair advantage of me."

Stooges

Going the rounds sub rosa in the maritime commission is a hilarious cartoon of dynamic Chairman Joe Kennedy and his four fellow board members.

It pictures Joe sitting at his desk with his colleagues clustered on his knees in the shape of Charlie McCarthy's Joe is saying: "The meeting will come to order."

All the commissioners except Carl Moran pipe a dutiful, "Aye, aye, sir!"

Moran, the plain-talking dissenter of the Commission, yells, "Not by a jugful!"

Federal Medicine

Medical societies, worried over the "threat" of federal aid in medicine, will find that the government has already set up a federal medical organization in North Dakota. It is not a co-operative, but pays the participating physicians out of federal funds.

Resettlement administration set up a number of co-operatives, notably in Mississippi and Arkansas, in which its clients paid a fixed fee each month for blanket medical service. These were county co-operatives, and Resettlement was merely a supervisor.

In the North Dakota organization, however, the farm security administration, which has taken the place of Resettlement, plays the triple role of organizer, manager, and benefactor. All the bills are paid by Uncle Sam.

A sick farmer who is a "client" of FSA applies to the North Dakota Mutual Aid corporation, gets a permit, then calls on any physician in the state.

When the bill is presented, it goes to the corporation's headquarters in Bismarck, is audited and paid from farm security funds. The patient gives a promissory note to FSA for the amount of the fee, but actually he will never be called up to pay so long as he is short of funds.

FSA has 22,000 clients in North Dakota, which has had three recent drought years—1937, 1936 and 1934. Since the establishment of the medical corporation about a year ago, FSA has paid out nearly $500,000 in fees.

North Dakota doctors are making no protest. They are glad to have the money.

Merry-Go-Round

By a personal trade agreement, the U. S. ambassador to Poland, Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, Jr., has leased the hunting preserve in Poland that belongs to Poland's ambassador to Washington, Count Jerzy Potocki. . . . Republicans claim they used the phrase "Good Neighbor" before the New Deal. But a Canadian used it on June 14, 1886, when Sir Wilfred Laurier, Dominion prime minister, wrote a note to the U. S. about fisheries, saying that Canada was trying to be a "good neighbor."

Dixon Woman Writes Article for State Society Journal

The last issue of the Journal of the Illinois State Historical Society contained the following contribution by Mrs. Lucille M. (Henry C.) Warner of this city:

On the afternoon of June 26, 1937, the Dixon Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution dedicated a marker which they had erected to the memory of Pierre La Salle, the first white settler in Lee county. The site of the cabin is some seven miles northeast of Dixon in the community locally known as "The Kingdom." Joseph Crawford, a surveyor who in 1835 took up a nearby claim from the government, discovered the ruins of the La Salle cabin, while surveying in the same year. Later W. H. Edwards, father of Judge Harry Edwards, and Frank E. Stevens spent some time on the spot, making a plat of it and its surroundings. Near one of the Indian graves they found a piece of a human bone. Still later, Prof. L. B. Neighbour spent much time studying this interesting old spot.

The remains of La Salle's cabin are plainly visible—the fallen stones of the fireplace, the hollow in the ground made by the fur press, the sunken graves of more than twenty adults, probably Indians. The cabin stood on a high bluff overlooking Franklin creek, about one-third of a mile from the present public highway. It was thought by Professor Neighbour that two trails crossed near the cabin. The one trail is still plainly seen in the spring, when the grass is short. It goes diagonally from southeast to northwest, and probably ended at Galena, or perhaps Fort Snelling. The marks of the other trail are practically obliterated and can be deciphered only by one who is accustomed to reading such landmarks. It was Professor Neighbour's belief that the trails were there before the cabin, and that La Salle built at the crossing in order to take advantage of the traffic in his fur trading.

The dedicatory services held by the Daughters of the American Revolution were simple, but suitable and impressive in their character. Mr. Frank E. Stevens, of Springfield, Ill., made the address of the day. Because of the fact that the marker is located on a sunny highway several miles from Dixon, the services were held at the Methodist church in Dixon; after the address the audience was invited to visit the marker, and cars were provided by the members of the local chapter of the Daughters. Many people availed themselves of the privilege and were much pleased at the simple dignity of the granite boulder which marks the site of this interesting spot.

COFFEE TROUBLES HIT BRAZIL

COFFEE, that stimulating little product which got its start in ancient Ethiopia, is growing too fast these days for Brazil.

More than 3,000,000,000 coffee trees, three-fifths of all in the world, are producing along Brazil's highlands, glutting the market and thereby skidding coffee prices to new lows. Already Brazil has burned 52,000,000 bags since 1931 and now it has reduced its export tax on the commodity.

In the last crop year Brazil alone produced 68 per cent of the world's coffee, while 38 other countries and colonies, chiefly Colombia, Netherlands East Indies, Venezuela, Guatemala and Salvador, provide the remainder.

Coffee has come a long way from its humble beginning, on the windy slopes of Ethiopia where the tree has grown wild since primitive times. There is a legend that a priest discovered coffee's stimulating properties when his goats became restless after eating the coffee berries.

From Ethiopia, coffee was taken to Arabia, thence to Java and finally to the Americas, where it found its greatest reception. Arabia and Java were one time its major producers. Liberty holding coffee leaves is shown on a 1927 Brazilian stamp, commemorating the bicentenary of the introduction of the coffee tree there. (Copyright, 1938, NEA Service, Inc.)

On the afternoon of June 26, 1937, the Dixon Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution dedicated a marker which they had erected to the memory of Pierre La Salle, the first white settler in Lee county. The site of the cabin is some seven miles northeast of Dixon in the community locally known as "The Kingdom." Joseph Crawford, a surveyor who in 1835 took up a nearby claim from the government, discovered the ruins of the La Salle cabin, while surveying in the same year. Later W. H. Edwards, father of Judge Harry Edwards, and Frank E. Stevens spent some time on the spot, making a plat of it and its surroundings. Near one of the Indian graves they found a piece of a human bone. Still later, Prof. L. B. Neighbour spent much time studying this interesting old spot.

The remains of La Salle's cabin are plainly visible—the fallen stones of the fireplace, the hollow in the ground made by the fur press, the sunken graves of more than twenty adults, probably Indians. The cabin stood on a high bluff overlooking Franklin creek, about one-third of a mile from the present public highway. It was thought by Professor Neighbour that two trails crossed near the cabin. The one trail is still plainly seen in the spring, when the grass is short. It goes diagonally from southeast to northwest, and probably ended at Galena, or perhaps Fort Snelling. The marks of the other trail are practically obliterated and can be deciphered only by one who is accustomed to reading such landmarks. It was Professor Neighbour's belief that the trails were there before the cabin, and that La Salle built at the crossing in order to take advantage of the traffic in his fur trading.

The dedicatory services held by the Daughters of the American Revolution were simple, but suitable and impressive in their character. Mr. Frank E. Stevens, of Springfield, Ill., made the address of the day. Because of the fact that the marker is located on a sunny highway several miles from Dixon, the services were held at the Methodist church in Dixon; after the address the audience was invited to visit the marker, and cars were provided by the members of the local chapter of the Daughters. Many people availed themselves of the privilege and were much pleased at the simple dignity of the granite boulder which marks the site of this interesting spot.

IN HIS STEPS

(Sermon by the Rev. F. E. Rueckert at Grace Evangelical church, Sunday evening.)

Scripture: I Peter 2:9-25.

Text: I Peter 2:21—For even hereunto were ye called; because Christ also suffered for us, leaving us an example, that ye should follow His steps.

"Christ is an example. Follow in His steps. By his death He redeemed us, His resurrection justified us, in His ascension He became the head of the church, in His coming again He is the hope of the Christian, but in life He is our example. There has been a great deal of false teaching that folks become Christians by following in His steps but we do not become Christians by works and services. Christ does not become our example until we have found Him as our Savior. Luke says in Acts 4:12 "Neither is there salvation in any other; for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved."

Folks have asked me what I thought of the book, "In His Steps." I think it is very good as far as the writer has gone. He ought to have added another chapter to give the secret of how to follow in His steps. Paul said, "Christ in you, the hope of glory; for me to live is Christ."

What a wonderful calling we have in Jesus. We are first called to be something and then to do something. "You are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye shew forth the praises of Him that called you out of darkness into His marvelous light. We are called to live better than the world. We are called to be kings and priests unto God. Are you living kindly lives and have you accepted your God given privilege of being a priest of your household."

Now, I do not mean "peculiar" as to attire—peculiar in that your life is different, in that your life resembles Jesus' life. The disciples were first called "Christians" in Antioch, because they so resembled Jesus. It was the finest compliment that could have been paid them.

We are to be better citizens because we are Christians. I Peter 2:17 "Honour all men. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honour the king." What a wonderful privilege to keep faith in fellowmen and have brotherhood. Fear God. Honour the king. Give God the right place in your life.

Because we are Christians we ought to avail ourselves of the God—given privileges of voting. There are many folks who do not go to the polls to vote. You are going to be held accountable in the sight of Almighty God and it is your duty to cast your vote on that side which is right.

We ought to be better servants. We should be better employees. Do not keep your eyes on the clock

COFFEE TROUBLES HIT BRAZIL

COFFEE, that stimulating little product which got its start in ancient Ethiopia, is growing too fast these days for Brazil.

More than 3,000,000,000 coffee trees, three-fifths of all in the world, are producing along Brazil's highlands, glutting the market and thereby skidding coffee prices to new lows. Already Brazil has burned 52,000,000 bags since 1931 and now it has reduced its export tax on the commodity.

In the last crop year Brazil alone produced 68 per cent of the world's coffee, while 38 other countries and colonies, chiefly Colombia, Netherlands East Indies, Venezuela, Guatemala and Salvador, provide the remainder.

Coffee has come a long way from its humble beginning, on the windy slopes of Ethiopia where the tree has grown wild since primitive times. There is a legend that a priest discovered coffee's stimulating properties when his goats became restless after eating the coffee berries.

From Ethiopia, coffee was taken to Arabia, thence to Java and finally to the Americas, where it found its greatest reception. Arabia and Java were one time its major producers. Liberty holding coffee leaves is shown on a 1927 Brazilian stamp, commemorating the bicentenary of the introduction of the coffee tree there. (Copyright, 1938, NEA Service, Inc.)

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Sacrament" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 9.

The Golden Text was, "The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the communion of the body of Christ?" (I Cor. 10:16).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Where-withal shall a young man cleanse his way? By taking heed thereto according to thy word. With my whole heart have I sought thee: O let me not wander from thy commandments. Thy righteousness is an everlasting righteousness, and thy law is the truth. Great peace have they which love thy law; and nothing shall offend them" (Psalms 119:3, 10, 142, 165).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "We know that a desire for holiness is requisite in order to gain holiness; but if we desire holiness above all else, we shall sacrifice everything for it" (p. 11).

NEW FOODS FOR THE KIDDIES

Baby food business is taking a look at bigger babies. The Harold H. Clapp division of Johnson & Johnson has recently announced a line of eight varieties of foods, less finely chopped than the strained or pureed baby foods which are sold to mothers of children from five or six months of age up to two years. This new line will appeal to an even larger market of nearly 5,000,000 children from two to four years of age.

Other makers of baby foods, such as Gerber, Heina, Stokely, Libby and Beach-Nut, are watching this development with interest.—Barron's.

DO COW-PUNCHERS APPRECIATE CAMEL'S COSTLIER TOBACCO'S ?

TED YOCHUM was born and raised in the cattle country. Speaking from personal observation, Ted says: "Cow-punchers are great Camel smokers. Seems like if a man smokes Camels once—he sticks to 'em. Come round-up time—I'm in the saddle for hours, and not sparin' myself. A Camel sure hits the spot then. I get a mighty pleasant 'lift.'"

Yes, and to America at large, Camel's costlier tobaccos have such a special appeal that they are the largest-selling cigarette in this country!

CHIEF SIGNALMAN John Geraghty: "You don't have to be a railroad man to know that speed and safety—our watchwords—call for healthy nerves. I smoke plenty. Camels don't jangle my nerves."

PERSONAL SHOPPER Irene Sherwood: "I guess every woman knows how hectic shopping is. I'm up against that six days a week. When I'm fatigued, I light up a Camel. It helps me to snap back."

PHARMACIST J. E. Bayus: "I get in a lot of Camel smoking. And when I say I never tire of Camel's taste—it's experience talking."

CHAMPION TYPIST Remo Poulsen: "I enjoy Camels from one end of the day to the other. And Camels are so mild, they don't irritate my throat."

SALESGIRL Elsie Schumacher: works in a department store. She says: "When the rush gets me to feeling worn-out—it's me for a Camel, and I get a quick 'lift.' Practically all of us girls in the store prefer Camels."

AUTO MECHANIC Al Patterson: says: "In the garage business you have to catch your meals on the run. I find that Camels seem to smooth the way for good digestion. The Mrs. smokes Camels too."

CAMELS are the LARGEST-SELLING CIGARETTE IN AMERICA

Progress Must Go On

This has been an era of great improvements in railroad service. Such improvements as streamline trains, air-conditioned travel, new power, high-speed schedules, pickup and delivery of package freight.

Progress must continue. Railroads need to give better service today than yesterday, still better service tomorrow than today.

It takes research, invention and determination to make continued improvements. These the railroads have.

Three things more are needed. One is adequate rates. Another is patronage. The other is freedom from handicaps. These the public must provide.

January Meeting Of Prairieville P. T. A. Is Held

The January meeting of the Prairieville P. T. A. was held Friday evening at the school, and was attended by a large audience.

Everyone enjoyed the following program which was both educational and entertaining. The grammar room sang "Santa Lucia" and the grade room and primary room dramatized the song "The Old Sand Man Is Coming." Leo Eckert played several numbers on the piano.

The Harmony quartet sang two numbers. Miss Marian Reed played a piano solo. Moving pictures from the utility company and shown by Leo Bartel. The first picture shown illustrated the advance made in harvesting, threshing and milling the wheat.

The second picture was a scenic picture of the Cascade mountains in the state of Washington and the splendid progress science and electricity has made in tunneling through these mountains. The third picture explained the building of the Panama canal, and the giant task the Americans took in its construction which was successfully completed. The Harmony quartet sang two numbers following the pictures. Then the entire audience was invited to the basement where delicious refreshments were served.

Wa-Tan-Ye Club
Enjoys Meeting

The Wa-Tan-Ye club of Dixon held its first meeting of 1938, January 6th, 6:30 P. M.

After dinner, president, Lucile Poole, called the business session to order, during which time the roll call and minutes were read and approved. A discussion, concerning a date and plans to have a guest night, was considered by the club members. Further details concerning the above plans will be announced in the near future. Better attendance was again stressed by the president, so that the fullest cooperation may be realized in all club activities.

Miss Frances Patrick gave a report of the expenditures made, during the club's Christmas Service Fund, by the committee of which she was chairman. Programs will be arranged to be given at future meetings. The meeting adjourned at 8:15 P. M.

The next meeting of Wa-Tan-Ye club will be Jan. 20. Watch this paper for future Wa-Tan-Ye club news.

New Location Of Beauty Shop Open

Mrs. Lorene Hinkle announced today the opening of her new beauty shop at 123 E. First street. This new establishment replaces the former location in the Dixon Hotel building. The new shop will be known as Lorene's Beauty Service. Mrs. Hinkle states that business is now being conducted in the more spacious quarters in which the shop is now located. This is the building formerly occupied by the Preston Funeral Home and is directly opposite the offices of the Dixon Evening Telegraph.

Miss Jeanne Bovey entertained 8 guests at her home yesterday.

LUMBER INDUSTRY
PROSPECTS GOOD—
Although hit by the general business recession, the lumber industry is still operating well above former depression year levels, available statistics indicate. Furthermore the fact that it feeds on building activities places the industry in an excellent position to benefit from the administration's housing program. This prospect is amply supported by the fact that building and construction accounts for nearly three-fifths of the total annual lumber consumption—Commerce & Finance (N. Y.)

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY
Centralia, Ill., Jan. 4.—(AP)—New developments in the fruit growing industry will be discussed at the 82nd annual meeting of the Illinois Horticultural society here Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. About 500 were expected to attend.

SCIENCE CLUB BUSY
The members of the science club have been working at noons and during their free periods on their various projects. Several members of the club, who are interested in photography, have been practicing the developing and printing of pictures. In addition to developing their own old films they have helped the annual staff by developing their pictures for the snapshot section. Charles Missman, Walter Fassler, Vera Knight, Mildred Gilbert, Clarence Campbell, and Kenneth Eastman, under the direction of Mr. Peplot, have been working on this project.

Besides photography several other projects have proven interesting and worth while to other members. Douglas Holliston, the president of the club, has been working on crystal sets. He has made several, each being different, and he tells us he has been very successful with most of them.

Some of the boys have been trying to make electric motors. A few of these are Donald Stephentich, George Theiss, Douglas Schimmer, Wilbur Bonnell, and Warren Reuter.

The study of other scientific projects will probably begin soon.

The kettledrum is the only kind of drum having a definite musical pitch. It may be tuned to any one of the notes within its compass of half an octave.

STUDENTS HAVE NEW RINK

The students on returning from their vacation were pleased to notice that the work on the skating pond had progressed so rapidly. Everyone is eager to try his skating ability on the new pond. We are looking forward to many enjoyable hours to be spent there and are grateful to the citizens who were interested enough in us to make the skating possible. We also hope the weather man gives us a break.

ANNOUNCE PROGRAMS
Last Friday the second assembly program was sponsored by the Commercial club. An interesting talk on shorthand was given by Miss Franke. Three girls demonstrated at the blackboard shorthand writing at 100 words per minute. A short skit was then given which stressed the point that one should never sign any document without first reading it and, if you, do sign, insist on a copy.

These programs are being given by the student council to show the students what is being accomplished in different clubs. Program will be as follows: Jan. 14—history classes; Feb. 4, sophomore class; Feb. 11, home economics club; Feb. 18, Junior Citizens club; Feb. 25, Girls and Boys Glee Clubs; March 4, freshman class; March 11, science club; March 25, Boys Athletic association; April 1, junior class; April 8, Latin club; April 14, Future Farmers; April 22, Dramatic club; April 29, Hi-Writers; May 6, G. A. A.; May 13, orchestra and May 20, senior class.

CAPE PURCHASED FOR BAND
Twenty-nine attractive capes were purchased recently for the members of the A. T. H. S. band. These capes are to be paid for with money earned by the band.

The capes are made of red gabardine and lined with white satin. They fasten together with white frogs. There are small red buttons on each shoulder so that the capes may be buttoned back. This permits the use of the arms and makes it possible for the white lining to show. White felt letters of A. H. S. are sewed on one point of the cape. They were worn for the first time at the Amboy-Polo game, January 7. Band members are proud of the fact that they are now equally as well dressed as other noteworthy high school bands in this vicinity.

A wish for the hearty cooperation of the public, in helping the band earn their money, has been expressed by each member of the band. This can be done by the support of all activities sponsored by the band.

Only 13 Protestant
Pastors Still Held
In German Prisons

Berlin, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Only 13 of the 94 Protestant pastors jailed for opposing Nazi church control remained in custody today, the others having been freed during the holidays.

Some were paroled for Christmas and subsequently told they need not return to jail. Others were freed later in small groups, with little publicity.

Among those still confined was the outspoken Rev. Martin Niemoller, held since July 1 without trial.

WILLIE-JACKSON-JACKS
Commonwealth & Southern President Willie, branding recent utterances against "big business" as mythical and absurd, last night called on the Administration to stop its "mud slinging" and arguments as to who caused the business recession and concentrate on how to cure it; said main problem is to restore confidence of investors in business; suggested business-government conferences toward this end.

Barely Escaped With Her Laurel

Like a scene from one of his own film comedies, Stan Laurel's escape with a new wife from an irate ex-wife via a baggage coach was very funny to everyone—except the bride, the former Vera Inanova Shuvailova, above, who smiles despite her trouble-beset wedding trip. After an elopement to Yuma, Ariz., the newlyweds returned to Hollywood and work, Laurel to the studios and his Russian bride to the cafe where she sings.

GREEK CROWN
PRINCE, BRIDE
HONEYMOONING

Athens, Greece, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Prince Paul, heir-presumptive to the Greek throne, and his bride, the Princess Frederica Luise of Hanover, honeymooned today at a private residence near Athens.

They were married at the Greek Orthodox church yesterday by the archbishop of Athens, in a ceremony at which representatives of 63 royal and noble houses of Europe were guests.

A second ceremony was performed by a German Evangelical pastor at the royal palace.

The bride, 20, is a granddaughter of former Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany. Prince Paul, 35, is the only brother of Greece's childless King George II. By the marriage the German princess becomes Princess Margarita of Greece.

The couple plan to leave next week on a honeymoon trip abroad, lasting a month. Meanwhile, they were staying at the private residence as their $100,000 villa, bought for them by the Greek government, was not yet ready for occupancy.

County Welfare
Superintendent
Exams Hastened

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 10.—(AP)—John C. Weigel, public welfare administrative assistant, said today that efforts to determine the outcome of the examination for county welfare superintendents were being rushed but declined to comment further.

Weigel said grading of the papers, submitted by 425 applicants from 86 counties Saturday would be finished as soon as possible in the hope of completing the set-up quickly.

Persons scoring at least 60 are to be given an oral test but Weigel said whether that would be done in the individual counties, by districts or in Springfield had not been determined.

Weigel also still refused to comment on what might happen to the 15 counties whose nominees for the superintendencies were rejected. They were Chapman, Henry, Kane, Knox, Livingston, Lawrence, McDonough, Pike, Sangamon, Whiteside, Wabash, Piatt, Vermilion Johnson and Lake.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 10.—(AP)—Eleven letters written by Abraham Lincoln to Henry E. Dummer of Beardstown, a political and legal associate, were property of the state historical library today, donated by Mrs. William F. Dummer of Chicago, a daughter-in-law.

Librarian Paul M. Angle said the letters were a "valuable addition" to the state's Lincolniana collection. Most of them have been published.

CRIME TOURIST DENIED PRAYER FOR REHEARING

Given Three Days In Which To File Writ of Error

Little Rock, Ark., Jan. 10.—(AP)—The Arkansas supreme court today denied Lester Brockelhurst's petition for a rehearing on his appeal from a Lonoke circuit court death sentence but granted the former Galesburg, Ill., man permission to file within three days a petition for a writ of error coram nobis.

If the writ is granted, Brockelhurst will be allowed to go back to Lonoke circuit court for a second trial on a question of whether he is innocent by reason of insanity in the May 6, 1937, hitch-hike slaying of Victor A. Gates, Little Rock landowner.

The so-called "crime tourist" made a formal plea of insanity at his trial last June but submitted no evidence to support it. Subsequently his attorneys collected dispositions from a number of Illinois residents supporting the claim.

Report Not Read
Prior to his trial at Lonoke, Brockelhurst was committed to the state hospital for nervous diseases for observation. The hospital reported to Circuit Judge W. J. Waggoner that it had found Brockelhurst "without psychosis."

The hospital's report was filed with the court at the time of the trial but was not read to the jury. The jury convicted Brockelhurst of first degree murder and Judge Waggoner sentenced him to be electrocuted.

The supreme court several weeks ago upheld the conviction. Action of the court in granting permission to file a petition for the writ of error coram nobis was rare procedure. Two years ago the tribunal held such writs could not be filed in lower courts without its permission and since that time has allowed only one such writ to be filed.

BELVIDERE IS WINNER OVER DIXON QUINTS

Boone County Fives Take Both Ends Of Twin Bill

Further proof that the North Central conference basketball race is a wide open affair for all five teams was furnished Saturday night at Belvidere when the Boone county majors and minors turned in a double victory over Dixon high by 24 to 18 and 21 to 19 scores, respectively.

Every team in the league has now lost one game except DeKalb which remains perched at the top of the standings, yet the Barbs' hold will be none too secure as recent events have proved.

Against the Belvidere heavyweights Dixon was able to end a first quarter battle in a 4 to 4 tie before the Sharpshooters' eyes could become accustomed to the dimly lighted, narrow gymnasium. In the second period L. Woods put Belvidere into a 5-4 margin when he was fouled by Daschbach. After Callahan tied the score by sinking a free shot, D. Woods flipped in a goal to put Belvidere ahead again. Ankeny sank a free shot before half time but the hosts held their 7 to 6 margin.

Nip and Tuck Battle
The third quarter developed into a nip and tuck battle with the lead changing hands five times before Belvidere finally worked into a 13 to 11 advantage and maintained a two to six point lead until the end of the period which found the score 20 to 14 in Belvidere's favor. Dixon failed to exhibit its usual fourth quarter spirit.

The minors almost snatched the game from Belvidere in the third quarter and kept pace with their rivals throughout the contest. The Boone county team got away to a 3-1 first period lead but was overtaken by the Sharpshooters 8 to 7 at half time. Cox tied the count at 7-7 and Tony Bevilacqua was fouled by Rulison which gave him a chance to put Dixon back into a one point lead.

The lightweights took the lead 12 to 9 in the third period for the last time. Thereafter the best they could do was to tie the score a couple of times before Lambé finally sent in the winning basket.

Industrial Loop Hoop Teams Begin Second Round Play

With the Knacks and the Sterling-Walz Lunch teams tied for first place at the conclusion of the first round of Industrial league cage competition, the second round got underway Tuesday night, the Knacks meeting their old foes the I. N. U. Co. at 8:15 P. M. in the feature game.

The first game of the evening will be played between the Reynolds Wire Co. and the Sterling outfit at 7:15 P. M. In first round play the Knacks and Sterling ended the round with three victories and one loss each. The I. N. U. Co. team kept a 500 percentage by scoring two wins and two defeats and the Reynolds team was third with one victory in four starts. The hapless Telegraph outfit lost all four games of the first round.

The standings are now as follows:

7-GAME PROGRAM FOR ILLINOIS COLLEGE LOOP

Lake Forest Booked For Three Games, Begins Tonight

Chicago, Jan. 10.—(AP)—A seven-game program, with Lake Forest figuring in three of the contests, will inaugurate Illinois college conference basketball race this week.

Championship firing will begin tonight in the league's first title campaign since its 10 members seceded recently from the Illinois intercollegiate athletic conference. By Saturday all but Bradley and Wheaton, which delay their conference starts until next week, will have had a hand in the initial ceremonies.

Lake Forest, winner of four straight pre-conference clashes, will meet North Central, and Illinois Wesleyan will be host to Illinois college in tonight's battles.

Wesleyan returns to action Wednesday against a Millikan team that has won four in a row. Lake Forest plays at Monmouth Friday and at Knox on Saturday. Two other conference engagements put Augustana against Monmouth on Tuesday and North Central on Saturday.

Bredley's veteran five, which has vanquished six successive foes representing as many states, meets Illinois competition for the first time Tuesday in a non-conference affair at Macomb. On Friday the Tech-men resume their intersectional warfare against Xavier of Cincinnati.

I. I. C. Slate Also Heavy
The parent Illinois Intercollegiate conference also is billed for title strife this week. Four league jousts were played last week and four more are scheduled for this week. Southern Teachers of Carbondale and the Eastern Teachers of Charleston, both victorious in their opening games, launch the title program Tuesday night at Charleston. On Saturday Eastern battles State Normal.

McKendree, which snapped its losing streak against Blackburn last week, will oppose Shurtleff Wednesday. Macomb and Carthage play in the other conference contest scheduled for Friday.

Other games in the two leagues this week include:
Monday—Aurora at Elmhurst.
Tuesday—St. Viator at Valparaiso.
Thursday—George Williams at Wheaton; Armour Tech at Northern Teachers.

Friday—Augustana at Eureka, Illinois College at Westminster (Fulton, Mo.).
Saturday—Millikan at Shurtleff, Milwaukee Engineers at Elmhurst, Northern Teachers at Illinois Wesleyan.

WESTERN LOOP AND THREE-EYE LEAGUE MERGE

Eight Clubs Expected To Form 1938 Ball Circuit

Moline, Ill., Jan. 10.—(AP)—The Western league, which began baseball operations back in 1885, virtually was dissolved today, with its place in the sport absorbed by another old diamond circuit—the Three-Eye organization.

Western league club-owners, meeting yesterday at Davenport, Ia., took what amounted to a "merger" step with the Three-Eye (Indiana, Illinois and Iowa) which met jointly here late Sunday with Western league officials.

Next summer, eight clubs are expected to form the Three-Eye organization, which finished with four teams in 1937. The teams will be Springfield, Moline, Bloomington and Decatur of Illinois, Clinton, Cedar Rapids and Waterloo of Iowa, and either Davenport, Ia., or Evansville, Ind.

The St. Louis Browns were awarded the Springfield franchise. Springfield had no team last season. The Cedar Rapids club of the Western Eye, while the Milwaukee Brewers were given permission to operate Bloomington as a farm in the enlarged Class B circuit.

To Move Peoria
Warren Giles, general manager of the Cincinnati Reds of the National league, which owned Peoria of the Three-Eye league last season, and Waterloo, Ia., of the Western circuit, will be permitted to move the Peoria team to Waterloo to represent the Iowa city.

The Boston Bees sought a franchise for Evansville but because the Davenport club was not represented by its president, a decision on which of the teams will be selected was postponed until a meeting here next Sunday, at which time Davenport must announce its plans.

Formal dissolution of the Western league was postponed until February 15 to allow Sioux City an opportunity to dispose of several players on its reserve list and to enable the St. Louis Browns to transfer their Des Moines players to the Springfield club.

SAN ROMANI THREATENING MILE RECORD

Three Dangerous Rivals Pressing Him For $2100 Prize

New York, Jan. 10.—(AP)—A warning to Glenn Cunningham and Don Lash:
Watch out for your world records when Archie San Romani gets in condition. The curly-haired cornetist from Kansas, a miler with an international reputation, didn't think he was at his best Saturday night. Yet he hung up a new American citizen's record for 3,000 meters, and nipped the great Lash in a driving finish in the Knights of Columbus meet at the 13th regiment armory.

Archie was clocked in the brilliant time of 8:27.4, with Lash and Joe McCluskey, New York A. C. veteran, also under Joie Ray's 15-year-old American citizen's record of 8:31.5. Lash, losing the decision in a hair-line finish, was timed in 8:27.5, while McCluskey, running one of the best races of his long career, was caught in 8:30.8.

In Fair Condition
"Maybe I was in a little better condition than I thought," said San Romani after the race. "I had no idea we were going that fast. If I had a little more experience at the distance I believe I could have beaten Nurm's world record."

Peerless Paavo hung up the international standard of 8:26.4 on Madison Square Garden's banked track in 1925.

Sharing the record-breaking with San Romani was Robert Rodenkirchen, young New York A. C. sprinter, who clipped a tenth of a second off the long-standing indoor record for 100 meters when he was clocked in 10.7 seconds to nose out Marty Glickman of Syracuse.

THOMSON STILL

OPEN GOLF LEAD
Three Dangerous Rivals Pressing Him For $2100 Prize

Los Angeles, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Jimmy Thomson was still in front today as the 13th annual Los Angeles open golf tournament swung into the final round over par-shattered Wilson memorial course.

Shooting for the $2,100 first prize of a $7,500 purse, Thomson, the big gun from Shawnee-on-the-Deleware, held a lead of but three strokes over three dangerous rivals.

The trio was Jimmy Hines of Garden City, N. Y., who won the Los Angeles open in 1936, Lloyd Mangrum of Dayton, Ohio, and Johnny Revolta, Evanston, Ill., who lost a playoff in 1935 to Vic Ghezzi for the local title.

The Los Angeles Times sponsor of the tourney, announced yesterday the prize money had been increased from $5,000 to $7,500.

Leader Faltering
Thompson, who cracked the Wilson par 71 with a 65 and the companion Harvick, course par 72 with a 66 in earlier rounds, showed signs of faltering yesterday when he took a 74 for the Wilson layout for a total of 235.

Biggest local threat was Olin Dutra, former national open and P. G. A. champion, who carded a 67 yesterday to wind up four shots back of the leader. Olin's brother, Mortie, of Detroit, also shot a 67 for a total of 215.

Willie Goggin of San Francisco fell back to the 209 bracket, but he and Henry Picard, Hershey, Pa., and Lawson Little, former amateur star from San Francisco, offered a real threat today.

National A. A. U. Cage Champs To Invade Chicago

DENVER SAFEWAYS PLAY COLLEGIANS JANUARY 21

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 10, 1938.

Boasting the same All-American lineup that triumphed over the best in the west in the final Rocky Mountain A. A. U. playoffs, and then went on to capture the U. S. title in the National A. A. U. games over 54 college and state champs at Denver last year, the famous Denver Safeways will make their only Midwest appearance on Friday night, January 21, 1938, against the crack Chicago Collegians, Negro quintet, at the 132nd Regiment Armory, at Madison and Rockwell Sts.

Here is basketball at its best—dazzling, sensational and thrilling—with two teams in a class by themselves in magical passing and showmanship. The Safeways have proven themselves the ultra of cage sport, but many Chicagoans will back the fifty Collegians, rables of the National Amateur Champions and claimants of World's Amateur cage title, to upset America's standard-bearers.

Movie Stars On Hand
The Denver Safeways will be spurred on not only by their imposing A. A. U. trophy that will be on display, but also by the presence of movie stars who have promised to be present and will be introduced to the crowd.

On Monday evening, January 24, the highly syndicated Phillips "66" squad featuring five All-Americans including the famous Chuck Hyatt of Pittsburgh, Joe Fortenberry, Jay Wallenstrom, Ray Edding, Jim Babcock and many others, will make their appearance at the same Armory court to face Frankie Harmon's Chicago Demons, nationally famous De Paul University quintet, including Ed Campbell, Willie Phillips, Nick Yost, Ray Adams, Fred Kneez and Bill Wendt.

In order to accommodate out of town fans who might desire to see the best attractions, a large block of tickets has been set aside and mail orders, accompanied by money order or American Express checks and sent to Harry Hannin, Room 403, 17 N. Wabash Ave., Chicago, Ill., will be promptly filled. It is expected that Chicago fans will completely buy out their allotment of tickets before the night of each big game, which, incidentally, will be supported by two other outstanding cage clashes.

The supporting card will get underway promptly at 7:15 p. m.

MODIFICATION OF STYMIE RULE GAINING FAVOR

Opposition Met At First Appears To Be Overcome

New York, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Although admittedly dodging the issue of either abolishing the pesky stymie or keeping it, the United States Golf Association appears to have hit upon a popular idea in modifying the stymie rule.

At its annual meeting Saturday the U. S. G. A. eliminated stymies when the nearer ball lies within six inches of the cup. Except for this modification, the rule remained unchanged, permitting the lifting of the ball for a putt only when it lies within six inches of the one that is "away" from the hole.

The reaction of prominent golfers to this decision was by no means unanimous. They had differed widely when the U. S. G. A. conducted its survey on what should be done about the matter. The general idea, however, seemed to be that it would help the match-play golfer without eliminating a time-honored hazard.

Quinlet Leads Opposition
Francis Quinlet, who again was chosen non-playing captain of the United States Walker Cup team Saturday, continued to lead the opposition, however.

"While the new rule is an improvement over the old, they either ought to play the stymie or abolish it, and I favor abolishing it," he said. "You can't compromise. I don't think the new rule will work, but let's wait and see."

The new rule will be in effect during 1938 only as a trial, the association announced, adding "it would not be desirable to eliminate a feature which has been a part of the game for over 100 years without giving a thorough trial of modifications which may move the

HUNK ANDERSON ON CINCINNATI COACHING STAFF

Cincinnati, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Bidding for "big time" in football, the University of Cincinnati today added Heartley "Hunk" Anderson to its coaching staff as assistant.

The appointment follows shortly after withdrawal of the school from the Buckeye athletic conference. Acting Athletic Director Charles Micham announced the appointment of the assistant University of Michigan coach and former Notre Dame mentor.

Micham also announced that the Bearcats would travel to Florida next fall to meet the University of Tampa.

Anderson gained gridiron fame as guard for Notre Dame in 1919, 20 and 21 and was assistant to Knute Rockne from 1922 to 1929. He was recalled from St. Louis University, where he was head coach, upon Rockne's death and remained as mentor until 1933. He moved on to North Carolina State University and remained with the southern school until last year, when he joined the line staff of Coach Harry Kipke's Wolverines.

CO-CHAMPIONS GROGGY AFTER CAGE UPSETS

Northwestern Now On Top, Gophers De- feated

Chicago, Jan. 10.—(AP)—The co-champions were slightly groggy today in Big Ten basketball's "battle royal" of 1938.

With the campaign only in its second week of "leather throwing," Minnesota and Illinois, who shared top honors last season, were in the losing column of a title scramble which shaped up as one of the hardest fought in many years.

Northwestern, which won only two out of six pre-season contests, was at the top of the standings. After polishing off Wisconsin a week ago, the Wildcats nosed out Ohio State Saturday in a 35-34 thriller. Northwestern takes on Iowa's strong team at Iowa City tonight.

Illini on Bottom
At the bottom of the pile was Illinois, with two straight defeats. The Illini ran up against a well-balanced Michigan team Saturday and were set down, 45 to 37.

Perhaps the biggest surprise of the Saturday program was Minnesota's defeat by Wisconsin, 35 to 28.

Iowa slapped a 48 to 39 defeat on Indiana as Ben Stephens set a new Iowa scoring record of 23 points, 20 onfield goals. Another brilliant performance came from Jewell Young of Purdue, who bagged 14 points as the Boilermakers rolled over Chicago, 50 to 34.

In addition to the Northwestern-Iowa battle tonight, the Minnesota-Indiana game at Minneapolis may prove a big factor in the title race. Other games tonight: Chicago at Wisconsin; Ohio State at Michigan and Purdue at Illinois.

Standings
W L T P O
Northwestern 2 0 82 72
Iowa 1 0 48 39
Purdue 1 0 50 34
Michigan 1 0 45 37
Wisconsin 1 1 73 75

Senator Pope Has Compromised Dairy Amendment Framed

Washington, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Senator Pope (D-Iowa) said today he had offered a "compromise dairy amendment" to the conference group attempting to compose differences between ever-normal granary measures passed by the House and Senate.

The Idaho senator, one of the conferees, submitted his proposal to Senator McNary (R-Ore) and Senator Duffy (D-Wis), backers of the "dairy-livestock amendment" written into both Senate and House bills.

"The compromise proposal would prevent any increase in livestock and dairy production resulting from diverted acreage," Pope said. "It would not affect normal operations of farmers at present."

The controverted amendment would bar benefits under the granary bill for farmers who produced dairy and livestock products for market on land taken out of corn, wheat, cotton and other crops.

Pope and other administration spokesmen complain its provisions would require a close watch on every farmer.

Open Hearings For All Supreme Court Nominations Due

Washington, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Chairman Ashurst of the judiciary committee assured the Senate today any Supreme Court nomination would be considered in open hearings.

Replying to a query from a colleague as to procedure the committee would follow, Ashurst said that "any coherent citizen who wants to be heard will be heard."

Ashurst said he also approved of a change in Senate rules sought by Senator Bridges (R-NH) to require open hearings on all Supreme Court nominations.

OCCUPY TSINGTAO

Tsingtao, Jan. 10.—(AP)—The Japanese navy tonight occupied this rich North China port without firing a shot. Landing parties of Japanese marines marched in without meeting the slightest opposition.

First of the forces of occupation to arrive was a contingent of 400 marines who landed at Shatzekow, 18 miles from here, and marched in at foot.

Shortly afterward Japanese troop ships entered the harbor and began disembarking additional marines. Five Japanese destroyers lay offshore.

The Japanese posted patrols and began lowering the white flags which, in accordance with previous Japanese demands, had been hoisted on Flagstaff Hill and public buildings in token of surrender.

The only signs of Chinese hostility were acres of dynamited, burned and looted Japanese cotton mills and other properties which the Chinese military destroyed before abandoning the city 10 days ago.

Destruction of Japanese properties was estimated at $100,000,000. It was the signal for the invasion of Shantung by Japan's land and sea forces now nearing the stage of complete conquest.

As its new masters marched in, Tsingtao was peaceful. A few Chinese in the streets went about their affairs apparently unperturbed by the passage of their city once more under alien control.

The entering marines were supported by naval airplanes which roared overhead in groups of three.

SHERIFF MIXED UP IN DYNAMITE BLAST MYSTERY

Elizabethtown, Tenn., Jan. 10.—(AP)—Sheriff J. M. Moreland said today Sheriff W. L. Wallin of Bledsoe county had been charged with being an accessory after the fact in connection with the dynamite blast that killed three children near here Friday.

The arraignment scheduled today for eight other men and a woman held in connection with the dynamiting of the house in which the children died has been postponed pending further investigation.

Moreland said Wallin, Crave Tollett and 14 others from Bledsoe county appeared voluntarily at Carter county jail early today.

He said Wallin was placed under arrest "because he failed to comply with our request to arrest the Tollett boys."

Moreland said three men were charged with murder in connection with the blast. He named them as White and Crave Tollett and Lee Walker, all of Pikeville, Tenn.

The others, he said, were under charges of aiding and abetting.

Victims of the blast, which wrecked the home of Harmon Gouge, were Gouge's children, Sonia, 9; Luena, 7; and Roma Jean, 5. Their mother was injured seriously.

Gouge, operator of a restaurant at Johnson City, Tenn., is at liberty on $10,000 bond pending trial next month for the slaying in 1936 of Arnold Tollett, brother of Crave and White Tollett. He claimed self defense.

The committee reported favorably a resolution by Senator Minton (D-Ind) which would direct the trade commission to determine whether agreements between automobile manufacturers and dealers were "fair and equitable."

The commission would also be directed to find whether dealers had an opportunity to earn a reasonable profit, whether manufacturers "employ coercion to the detriment of the dealer, the consumer and the public and whether 'unfair trade practices now employed by dealers are caused by the policies pursued by the manufacturers.'"

The commission also would be directed to determine whether "the market is forced beyond reasonable limits" by the manufacturers and "the relationship between excessive finance charges on time sales and excessive allowances on used cars."

An appropriation of $50,000 would be authorized for the investigation. The commission would be required to report recommendations for remedial legislation within a year.

RUSSIAN CHURCH MEN JAILED AS FASCIST SPIES

Moscow, Jan. 10.—(AP)—The arrest of eight high Russian Orthodox churchmen on charges of Fascist espionage and speculation was indicated today by Soviet newspapers.

Numerous nuns and priests, said to have been recruited for spying, also were reported involved.

The army newspaper "Red Star" declared that Metropolitan Theophan of Gorky, 270 miles east of Moscow, was leader of a band of spies, terrorists and saboteurs which included two bishops, two nuns and 19 priests.

The paper said a member of the band had admitted that it "took the line of Fascist Germany and Hitler in the hope that the Soviet Union would be defeated in the coming war."

The "Red Star" said the Gorky organization recruited members on a large scale. Its program was said to have included assassination of Soviet officials, sabotaging collective farm buildings, factories, hospitals, granaries and forests, and urging peasants to boycott the recent elections.

Clandestine monasteries and nunneries in Gorky and Murov where nuns secretly took the veil figured largely in the published charges.

The archpriest of Gorky was charged with organizing "Sisters of the White Kerchief" who helped collect information on defense, industry, railroads, farms and schools to be sent abroad.

Washington, Jan. 10.—(AP)—The Supreme Court agreed today to expedite a decision on litigation brought by the Electric Bond & Share company challenging constitutionality of the 1935 act regulating public utility holding companies.

It announced that arguments would be heard on February 7. The final decision usually comes within a few weeks after arguments.

The government had asked that arguments be set "on or as near February 7 as may be agreeable to the court."

Solicitor General Stanley Reed said, in making the request, that the securities commission had postponed enforcement of registration provisions of the act until the Supreme Court decides the controversy.

"In these circumstances," he added, "it is a matter of urgent public interest that this court grant the motion to advance."

Washington, Jan. 10.—(AP)—The Senate interstate commerce committee recommended today a federal trade commission investigation of the practices of manufacturers and dealers in connection with the distribution and sale of automobiles.

The committee reported favorably a resolution by Senator Minton (D-Ind) which would direct the trade commission to determine whether agreements between automobile manufacturers and dealers were "fair and equitable."

The commission would also be directed to find whether dealers had an opportunity to earn a reasonable profit, whether manufacturers "employ coercion to the detriment of the dealer, the consumer and the public and whether 'unfair trade practices now employed by dealers are caused by the policies pursued by the manufacturers.'"

The commission also would be directed to determine whether "the market is forced beyond reasonable limits" by the manufacturers and "the relationship between excessive finance charges on time sales and excessive allowances on used cars."

An appropriation of $50,000 would be authorized for the investigation. The commission would be required to report recommendations for remedial legislation within a year.

SUBSIDIES FOR PRIVATE MARINE ASSURED

Maritime Commission's Action Part of Defense Program

Washington, Jan. 10 — (AP) — Signing of subsidy agreements between the government and seven ship lines assured today strengthening of the American merchant marine coincidental with proposed expansion of the navy.

The maritime commission, whose job is to put new life into merchant shipping, announced approval of long-term contracts for construction by 1942 of 20 new ships for the foreign trade.

There was a possibility the number might reach 63. In addition, arrangements for another 25 ships had been made previously.

The new agreements provide annual subsidies of $7,359,000 for the seven companies. They were completed shortly before Chairman Joseph P. Kennedy is to leave the commission to become ambassador to Great Britain.

Under the long-term agreements, the shipping companies would start 14 of the 20 ships this year. Besides those to be completed by 1942, plans for 23 more vessels would be developed by those firms.

The commission said the Export Steamship corporation of New York which is negotiating for a long-term contract, is prepared to build nine or 10 vessels, and that other prospective long-term agreements might add at least 10 more ships, 12 high-speed tankers and a model safety liner.

MT. MORRIS

By Pauline Yoe

Miss Erma Stengel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Stengel, chose New Year's Day for her marriage to Walter H. Ubben of Mt. Morris.

An archway of evergreen boughs with pink snapdragons and white chrysanthemums at its base filled one corner of the living room at the home of the bride's parents. Beneath the arch at high noon, stood the young couple as they repeated the vows read to them by Dr. C. H. Hightower of Trinity Lutheran church.

For the ceremony the bride wore a gown of white brocade velvet made on princess lines with a narrow band of seed pearls around the neck. She carried an arm bouquet of pink roses and in her hair was a small cluster of white sweet peas. Her sister, Miss Esther Stengel, who served her as maid of honor, wore royal blue velvet with silver accessories. Her corsage was of pink, white and blue sweetpeas. Herman Miller of German Valley served his cousin as best man.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Velde Stengel, cousin of the bride, played a short program of nuptial music which included Lohengrin's Wedding March. She accompanied Mrs. A. E. Hecker while she sang "I Love You Truly," and "The Sweetest Story Ever Told."

After the ceremony a four course dinner was served to the 21 guests by the Misses Anna and Pauline Stengel, cousins of the bride. Mrs. George Stengel and Mrs. William Stengel assisted. A pink and white color scheme was chosen by the bride to decorate the home for the wedding and dinner which followed.

Mrs. Ubben was wearing a frock of duobonet metallic cloth with brown accessories when she and her husband left for a ten day trip in the East. They will spend some time in New York and New Jersey.

The bride has been employed for the past four and a half years in the stencil department of Kable Brothers company.

The groom has been employed on the William Stengel farm for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Horton announce the engagement of their daughter, Beatrice May, to Joseph Wolf of Sterling, son of Mrs. Nellie Wolf, also of Sterling.

Miss Ethyle McNett, who is making her home with Miss Beatrice Horton while her parents are in Florida, was assisted by Mrs. Harlan McNett when she entertained the members of the Tri Deck club at a party at the Horton home. Following supper the ladies devoted the evening hours to bridge.

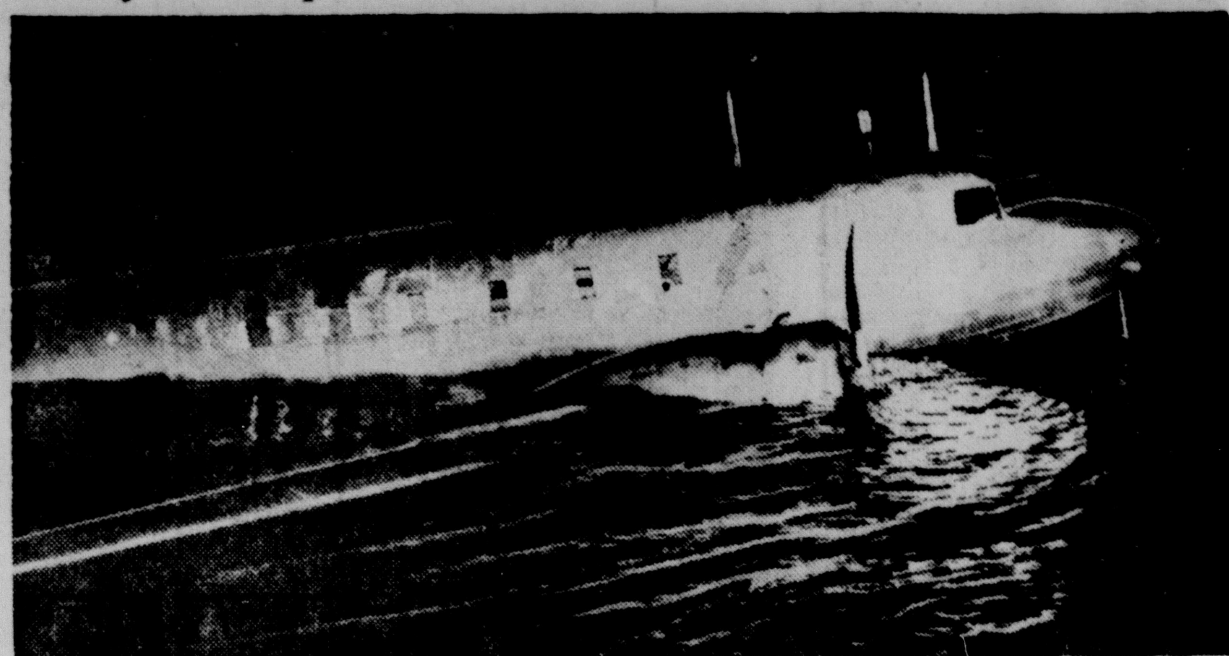

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Young were complimented when about 55 of their friends brought them a shower of gifts last Thursday evening. The hours were spent playing games after which the guests served a luncheon they had brought with them.

Mrs. Clifford Lingel will be hostess to members of the Salem Ladies' Aid Thursday. Following the scramble luncheon the afternoon will be spent quilting for the hostesses.

The Loyal Women's class of the Christian church spent a pleasant afternoon on Wednesday as guests of Mrs. Herlock Longman at her Center street home.

Mrs. Rosa Diehl will entertain the members of the Christian church Missionary society at her

Army Transport Forced Down in San Francisco Bay

Floating in San Francisco Bay under the glare of searchlights like some strange marine craft, the $70,000 army transport pictured above was only slightly damaged when ice forming on the motors forced the ship down. Col. Davenport Johnson, at the controls, skillfully "pancaked" the transport into the water, saving the lives of the five men aboard, and averting a serious crack-up.

home Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Ray Blecker will lead the devotions and Mrs. George Priller will give the program.

The Mesdames Alice Sprecher, chairman; Hugh Allen, C. C. Weaver, Donovan Mills, Fred Long, Fred Steffen, Clarence Palmer and Fayette Rose compose the hostess committee for the meeting of the Methodist Ladies' Aid when they meet in the parlors of the church Wednesday afternoon. Rev. William Manny will lead the devotions and the program is to be presented by the chairman, Mrs. Mary Thompson.

When the members of the Ladies' Aid society of the Lutheran church met for their January session Thursday afternoon, the Mesdames Went Sprecher, Ben Royer, Ray Holsinger and Miss Elizabeth Baker were hostesses.

The Missionary society will meet Wednesday at the home of Mrs. S. Royer.

Miss Esther Kretsinger, who with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Kretsinger of Dallas, Texas, are making a visit in Mount Morris, was a guest of Miss Harriet Thompson at Rockford college on Monday and Tuesday. On Sunday the Kretsingers, with Esther, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Kretsinger and Mr. and Mrs. Marian Small and son Tommy were dinner guests of Mrs. Mary Thompson.

Mrs. Lulu Price was hostess to the Thimble club members at dinner at Goranade cafe Wednesday evening. After dinner the ladies spent the evening at Mrs. Price's home.

At this time of the year when farm work is light, the Pine Creek Woman's club entertained their husbands at a picnic luncheon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Davis. Assisting Mrs. Davis were the Mesdames Charles Baker, Fred Drexler, Hugh Allen and Harry Baker.

Jack Keegan who attended the Boy Scout Jamboree in Holland during the past summer was present at the meeting to tell the members and their guests his impressions of farming conditions in Europe.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Withers on East Front street, echoed merrily with gala festivities over the holidays. On Christmas Day they entertained Mrs. Alice Missman, Mrs. Minerva Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Missman and daughters, Leva and Lorraine, Miss Mary Goodyear, Mrs. Hanna Heckman, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hoyle and children Richard and Donna, Mr. and Mrs. George Carpenter, all of Dixon, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Missman of Nelson.

All the things that symbolize an enjoyable Christmas time were employed, reminiscences of former happy times, Yule carols and the old fashioned grab bag, vied with the delicious dinner for first place of entertainment.

On New Year's Eve supper was served to Mrs. Alice Sprecher, Mrs. Florence Holsinger, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Holsinger, Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd Pieper, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Blake, Mr. and Mrs. George Priller, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nachtman, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sprecher. After the supper the guests entered into spirited competition in the game of "42". At the stroke of twelve cheery greetings of "Happy New Year" rang throughout the house.

On both occasions the house was decorated with holiday colors and the tables also carried out the red and green color schemes with individual favors for all. Prizes for "42" were awarded to Mrs. Priller, Mr. Holsinger, Mrs. Pieper and Mrs. Holsinger. At a late hour the guests departed well satisfied, that they had fittingly and enjoyably ushered in the new year.

It was indeed the start of a happy New Year for Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Sharer when they entertained a group of their friends Saturday evening.

"The Walrus and the Carpenter" might well have been present, for the evening's diversion included everything from playing with the children's toys, and ironing out the present political impasse to a satisfactory settlement of the Sino-Japanese war.

Mrs. Ira R. Hendrickson was hostess to the members of the Current Events club when they met in the library on Tuesday afternoon. The ladies spent the afternoon discussing Christmas customs and world affairs.

Miss Helen Thomas entertained the Mesdames Harriet Thompson Audrey Estes, Louise Curley, Esther Kretsinger, Kethra Palmer, Olive Conrad and Esther Fossler at a party Thursday evening. An evening around the card tables was brought to a close with refreshments.

Mrs. Paul Kent assisted Mrs. Harry Kable when she entertained the members of Chapter C U P E O. Sisterhood at their mid-holiday party Tuesday evening. Following an oyster supper the ladies enjoyed a few rounds of bridge.

A tid-bit supper topped off a most amusing evening for the Messrs. and Mesdames. Hugh Felker, Donald Clark, Worthington Thomas, Paul Yoe and Harold Knodel as well as Dr. and Mrs. Max Mishler and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sharpness of Chicago and Dr. Robert Sharer of River Forest.

As surprising as it may seem, their daily cares were pushed into the background Wednesday evening when the teachers of the high school and their wives were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Henricks. Following a buffet supper the evening hours were spent at games.

Mrs. Ted Swan entertained the Mesdames Edmund Lamm, Lawrence Lamm, Gerald Lamm, Frank Aufderbeck, John Glatfely, John McGee and Cameron Findlay at a bridge party Thursday evening.

Mrs. Grant Burman of Polo will present a program over WROK Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

This is the fourth in a series of programs arranged by Mrs. Paul Yoe, chairman of radio for the Thirtieth district of the Federated Women's clubs.

Coughlin Appeals For Cooperation

Detroit, Jan. 10—(AP)—The Rev. Charles E. Coughlin returned to radio broadcasting yesterday with a plea to finance, industry and labor for cooperation.

Father Coughlin urged his listeners to start the new year by "hating hate" and opposing unwise opposition. He outlined a four-point program for national health and prosperity:

"We should pledge ourselves singly and unitedly to cease sniping at our democratic form of government."

Rugged individualism should be replaced in business by "a strong industrial organization policy" envisioning a "union of motorcar manufacturers," and a "union of grocers," unions which would expose "chiselers" who pay less than living wages or cut prices in unjust competition.

Rival labor organizations should stop fighting for control or "some fantastic mind" will harness them. The nation should build up a matchless air force and navy but avoid entanglements abroad.

Poland Won't Quit League Of Nations

Warsaw, Poland, Jan. 10—(AP)—Foreign Minister Col. Joseph Beck asserted today that Poland would not quit the League of Nations although he found much to criticize in the league's recent record.

(After Premier Mussolini last month announced Italy's secession from the league there were authoritative indications that Poland was reconsidering her attitude toward Geneva.)

Out of every 100 men sentenced in English courts, only 15 are guilty of crimes serious enough to draw sentences of more than three months in prison.

Japan Dramatizes Its Might to Awe Shanghai

By night as well as by day, the Japanese military rulers of Shanghai strive to impress the populace with the formidable strength of the forces of occupation, in an effort to check the reign of terror launched by Chinese elements that refuse to accept defeat. Hollywood-like scenes such as that pictured are common. Flares silhouette the field gun and riflemen on guard duty at their quarters in the recently captured metropolis.

HUNT EVIDENCE IN SALES TAX "FIXING" CASE

Chicago, Jan. 10—(AP)—The investigation of sales tax "fixing" in the Chicago collection office settled down today to a systematic search for additional evidence on which state Finance Director Sam L. Nudelman said he hoped to base criminal prosecutions.

Forty investigators, brought here from downstate, were assigned to a store-to-store canvass for bribery evidence and tax evasions which Nudelman said last week may total several millions. Sixteen investigators have been dismissed.

Director Nudelman was expected to return here late today from a week-end conference with Governor Horner in Springfield.

Other than grand jury action this week against one discharged tax agent accused of accepting $3,600 in bribes, and against 22 merchants already charged with falsifying tax returns, evidence "at this time" does not warrant criminal action," Nudelman said after a conference Saturday with State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney.

Courtney indicated much of the evidence now on hand—including stenographic transcripts of telephone and recorded conversations between investigators and merchants—was enlightening but of little value in court.

The finance director said he hoped interviews with merchants by the downstate investigators would produce witnesses willing to testify in court.

PREP FOOTBALL RULES REMAIN ALMOST SAME

Chicago, Jan. 10—(AP)—Any prep football fans concerned over the possibility of learning a lot of new rules next fall can cease worrying.

The national federation of interscholastic athletic associations, which governs the high school games in 21 states, made only two changes in the regulations, after two days of discussion. The rules group authorized:

1. The penalty for a foul committed during a kick shall be loss of distance only, instead of loss of ball at point of the foul.

2. That the penalty for an illegal shift shall be five yards instead of 15.

Two recommendations offered to open up the forward pass portion of the sport were defeated by close margins. One was a proposal to permit any number of forward passes during a down, provided they were made from behind the line. The other would have allowed an eligible player of a team in possession of the ball to complete a pass previously touched but not caught by an eligible teammate.

Suggestions that the goal posts be moved up to the goal line and that a field goal be allowed when the ball passes between the uprights, but under the cross-bar, were tabled.

Yeggs Patience Rewarded; Escape With $6000 Loot

Chicago, Jan. 10—(AP)—Persistent burglars—who police estimated worked at least 24 hours on the job—sawed, chopped, chiseled and hacked through cement and steel to rob the Washington Heights postal sub-station of about $6,000 during the week-end.

Discovery of the burglary early today showed the determined robbers entered the building by cutting through a 14-inch wall in the rear. They then applied pickaxes to a 12-inch cement and steel wall of the vault before reaching four locked drawers, which they pried open.

The loot included $2,100 in stamps, $4,100 in non-negotiable bonds and $100 in currency.

Taste alone does not give the full flavor of what we eat. The flavor is divided into 25 per cent "feel," 50 per cent odor and 25 per cent taste.

Highest Pay

Biggest Salaries in Various Industries Are Announced

Washington, Jan. 10—(AP)—Gary Cooper was the highest-paid movie star in 1936, records of a House committee showed today, but Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., of General Motors received more remuneration than any Hollywood hero.

Sloan, whose pay was $561,311, and 12 other General Motors executives each got more than $300,000 for the year's work. Cooper, who received $370,213 replaced Mae West as Hollywood's best-paid actor.

The blonde leading lady received $323,333 for her 1936 films, less than the amount paid Cooper, Ronald Coleman ($362,500) and Claudette Colbert ($350,833).

Information furnished the treasury by corporations which paid individuals more than $15,000 in salaries, bonus, commissions and other compensation during the year was made public by the House Ways and Means committee.

Ten top men and women on the salary list were:

1. Sloan, 2. William S. Knudsen, vice president of General Motors ($459,878), 3. Cooper, 4. Colman, 5. Donaldson, Brown, vice-president, General Motors Corp. ($353,732), 6. Miss Colbert, 7. John Thomas Smith, general counsel, General Motors Corp., ($349,257), 8. Thomas J. Watson, president, International Business Machines Corp., ($342,008), 9. S. P. Skouras, New York and California theatre operator, ($341,009), 10. Miss West.

Tri-State Skating Title Belongs To C.Y.O. Of Chicago

Elgin, Ill., Jan. 10—(AP)—The Tri-State team skating title, or perhaps it should be called the "Ronchetti Handicap," belonged today to the Catholic Youth Organization team of Chicago.

The C. Y. O. racers piled up 410 points, with 120 of them registered by Vic Ronchetti, 21-year-old bartender. Ronchetti raced to victory and new records in each of the four events in which he competed — the 400, the half-mile, the mile and two-mile races.

The Northwest skating club of Chicago finished second with 300 points, followed by the Wisconsin Skating Association at 130 and the Iowa Association fourth with 90.

Ronchetti's closest competition came from Bob Peterson of Wisconsin, who finished with 50 points. Ronchetti's teammate, Eleanor Theil-Dyer, won the women's title with 50 points by taking the mile and finishing second in the 440. Shirley Jameson, University of Illinois co-ed, won the 440 and finished third in the mile race.

SEVEN KILLERS UP FOR PARDON BOARD'S STUDY

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 10—(AP)—Seven convicted murderers are among the 12 persons whose petitions for executive clemency are scheduled to be heard by the state pardon board tomorrow.

Heading the list are Mrs. Marie Porter and Angelo Ralph Giocola, whose execution for the St. Clair county slaying of the woman's brother has been postponed until January 21 by reprieves.

Others sentenced for murder who ask pardons are: Luther Brown, Earl W. Morse and Joe Todd, all from Cook county; James Fowler, LaSalle, and Mabel Thomas, Massac. The men are held at Joliet and the woman at Dwight reformatory.

Other cases on the pardon board's docket: Menard, Bill Bevenau, St. Clair, rape; Chicago House of Correction, Louis McHugh, Cook, tampering with auto; on probation, Samuel Jutson, Cook, bigamy; Joliet, Amante Rongetti, Joliet, Cook, manslaughter; Joliet, George D. Poulos, Cook, larceny.

F. D. R. ASSERTS SLOUGHING OFF FOES NECESSARY

Jackson Day Speech Holds Attention Of Opponents

Washington, Jan. 10—(AP)—President Roosevelt's Jackson day assertion that the Democratic party must "slough off any remains of sectionalism and class consciousness" drew belated attention today from those Democrats in Congress who have opposed administration measures.

In some quarters, the remark was interpreted as a hint that administration support would not be extended in coming elections to anti-Roosevelt Democrats.

"As we move forward under our present momentum," Mr. Roosevelt said in his address, "it is not only necessary but it is right that the party slough off any remains of sectionalism and class consciousness."

"Party process cannot stop just because some public officials and private or local groups fail to move with the times. Their places will be amply filled by the rising generation."

Politicians who have speculated on the possibility of a re-alignment of parties noted also that the president appealed for disregard of partisanship. He told of having voted for Theodore Roosevelt, when he was a Republican candidate for president.

Secretary Wallace, speaking at Des Moines, invited small business and professional men to leave the Republican party and join Democratic ranks.

James A. Farley, Democratic national chairman, said at New York last night that the Jackson day dinner receipts indicated a profit of more than $400,000.

GOVERNMENT IS WORRIED

Now government is worried. It sees in U. S. a parallel with France where long string of deficits has depreciated currency, inflated prices, so that French bondholders now get about 10 per cent as much from their bonds as they did before deficits started. It's a slow, creeping process. Politicians here will have to face the issue.—W. W. Kiplinger.

DELINQUENCY IS SUBJECT 'PANEL' PROGRAM SUNDAY

Scout Leaders, Sheriff, Teachers Discuss Youth Problem

Juvenile delinquency in Dixon was the subject of an interesting panel discussion at the First Methodist Episcopal church service Sunday evening at 7:30, which despite the threatening weather, attracted a large gathering. The pastor, the Rev. Howard P. Buxton acted as the mediator and the panel discussions were led by Miss Marie Kelly, Girl Scout activities director; Miss Esther Barton, principal of the New Lincoln elementary school; E. N. Bowers, American Legion boys' activities chairman; Sheriff Ward T. Miller and B. J. Frazer, principal of the high school.

Introducing the speakers, Rev. Buxton in presenting Sheriff Miller stated that he was known as an officer possessing real integrity in the enforcement of the law. Presenting the subject, "Leadership for Youth," Miss Kelly was the first to be heard.

"Our youth of today are the victims of the economic conditions of our country," she stated in opening. She then stated that in Dixon there were 365 active Girl Scouts including Brownies, who were interested in a well balanced program, but added that progress in the Girl Scout movement was being retarded due to lack of accurate leadership.

E. N. Bower, active in Boy Scouting and Junior Legion activities, agreed with Miss Kelly, that a lack of leadership retarded progress in these worthwhile movements planned to improve the daily lives of the youth of today. During the past few weeks, however, he stated some interest had been developed in leadership. Under the present Scout program, he told his listeners only one out of three boys who need Scouting is being reached, because of the lack of proper leaders. In Dixon there are between 90 and 100 registered Scouts, while the average number should be at least 300, he said. Five troops are active and the minimum number should be ten. In the American Legion Youth Activity program which appeals to a group of boys who do not appear to be interested in the Scout program, a lack of interest in the various youth development program, he stated, but held hope that when some definite program for Dixon youth is adopted, that the citizens will rally to the support of the cause.

"Crime Starts at Home"

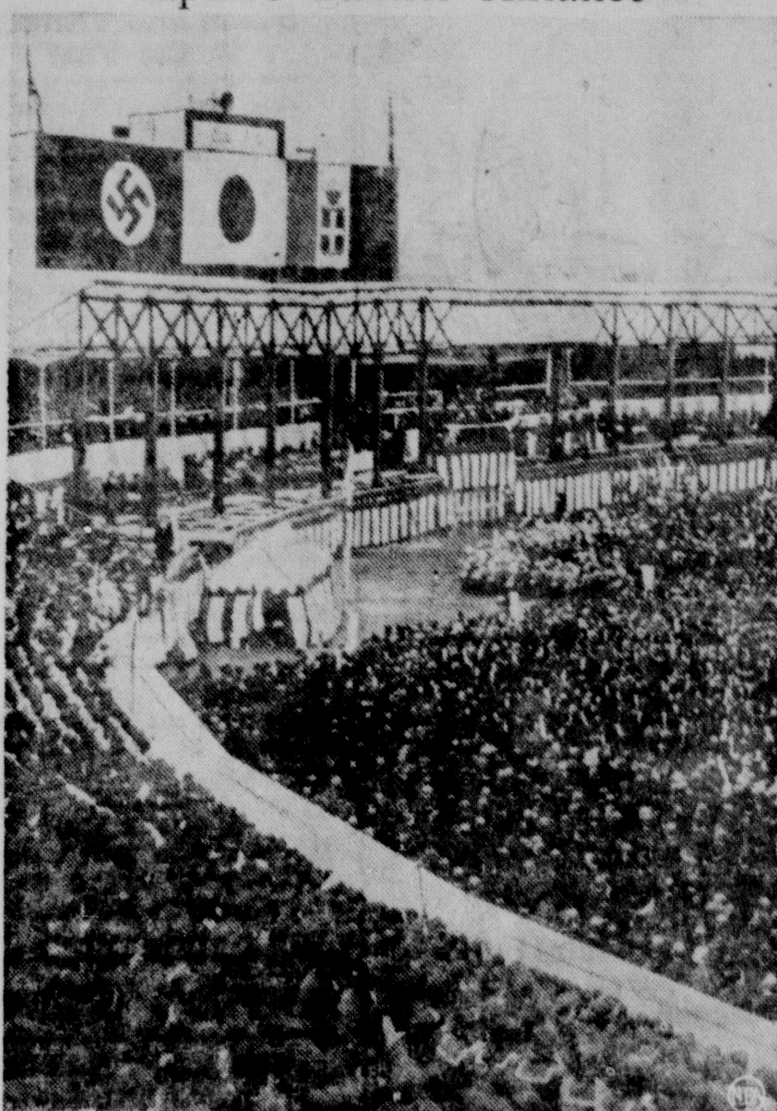

"Crime in America begins in the American home," Sheriff Ward T. Miller stated in opening his section of the panel discussion. He cited national statistics showing that a large percentage of crime prevails among youth under 21 years of age. His own experience, he stated had satisfied him that 6 to 10 years represented the ages when home training is most essential. Both state and federal officials in large numbers look after the development and care of cattle, hogs, chickens and even honey bees, but little attention is paid to the development, within the home and the environment, of the growing youth of today. The sheriff also cited the fact that citizens fail to co-operate with the peace officers by neglecting to report conditions known to them, which if reported at the proper time might prevent crimes, and again, by making a timely confidential report, would result in the solution of a crime.

"Crime Starts at Home"

Miss Esther Barton, principal of the new Lincoln grade school stated that teachers in the grades were able to detect delinquency among the pupils after a brief period of observation. By these observations, she added, that in almost every instance of suspicion, the pupils displayed delinquency. Indifference in the home, truancy and petty stealing were the first evidences of delinquency. Lack of respect for rules in school and lack of co-operation by parents in the home where economic conditions are outstanding causes of delinquency which can be detected in school pupils under the age of 12 years.

B. J. Frazer, principal of the high school stated that delinquent children do not possess the things that the average students boy or girl enjoys in their home. The de-

Japan's Banner Alliance

The Rising Sun of Japan, the Swastika of Germany, the Tricolor of Italy hang above the speakers' stand in the huge stadium at Tokyo, heralding to the 30,000 assembled members of youth groups and student organizations the anti-Communism pact which makes Europe's fascist nations Nippon's allies.

In his discussion, Sheriff Miller answered many questions. To one of these, which inquired as to road house conditions in Lee county, the sheriff stated that in his opinion, prosperity among the road houses moved in cycles. At present, he added, it is his belief that the road houses are on the decline, adding that two had closed in Lee county recently. The novelty seekers frequenting these places, he said, have become satisfied.

Suggested Licenses

In response to a question relating to drinking habits among the present day youth, Sheriff Miller voiced a new suggestion for the consideration of his listeners. He suggested a "drinker's license," to be issued by the municipality or county as a means of not only reducing the sale of liquor to minors but having a tendency to eliminate habitual drunkards. He suggested the issuance of a "drinker's license," annually for a fee of 25 cents, this amount to be retained in the municipality or county where the clerks issue the permits and to be used for public improvements. The passage of a law legalizing such action would be necessary, and the sheriff strongly advocated making the measure applicable locally and not by the state for the purpose of creating political jobs.

Teachers Watchful

Miss Esther Barton, principal of the new Lincoln grade school stated that teachers in the grades were able to detect delinquency among the pupils after a brief period of observation. By these observations, she added, that in almost every instance of suspicion, the pupils displayed delinquency. Indifference in the home, truancy and petty stealing were the first evidences of delinquency. Lack of respect for rules in school and lack of co-operation by parents in the home where economic conditions are outstanding causes of delinquency which can be detected in school pupils under the age of 12 years.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
CONSTANCE CORBY—heroine; richest girl in the world.
BRET HARDESTY—hero; bridge builder.
RODNEY BRANDON—Connie's fiancé.
KATIE BLYN—Connie's "double."

Yesterday, Connie trades places with the shop girl and becomes Katie Blyn. Elated, she slips out of the house into a world that no longer knows her.

CHAPTER V

THE first place this new Katie Blyn visited was a department store. She bought a pair of shell-rimmed glasses, a bright orange lipstick, and a toothbrush. In counting her roll of bills she found her capital to be exactly $260.48. Often she had spent that much in a single afternoon. Now it must last until she became Constance Corby again.

Her next stop was an inexpensive luggage shop. She picked out a small, imitation leather bag. "Could I have my initials stamped on?" she asked the salesman.

He said she most certainly could. "And at no additional cost, either, Miss," he added; perhaps because he thought she could not afford it, or, because of the way she had smiled at him.

Now Connie, or Katie, as she must think of herself, made her way to the Transcontinental Bus Terminal. In the rest room she put her things, including the jewelry, into the new bag with its proud "K. B." in bright gilt letters. Before the row of long mirrors she carefully applied the orange lipstick, fitted the spectacles behind her ears. She was more than pleased with the result.

"Why, I could run right into Uncle Tippy, or Rodney, and they wouldn't recognize me!" She thought triumphantly, her eyes alight with excitement, her cheeks flushed.

SHE did not know where she was going, but she certainly was on her way!

"I'd like a ticket for the first bus that pulls out of here," she told the grumpy looking man at the ticket window.

"You must be in a hurry," he said; not cressly, but with a knowing comradeship. He stamped a ticket, slid it under the window. "That'll be $11.90."

present to enter the contest. A point system is being used, awards being made for attendance, wearing uniforms, discipline, participation in hiking, advancement, project work in connection with the troop's annual window display, participation in drum and bugle corps activities.

Regular weekly rehearsals for the drum and bugle corps will be resumed next week this being the first meeting of the unit since last fall. This year, the members of the corps will be entered on a classification group, award stripes and promotions being given as the individuals advance in the corps activity.

Spills and thrills were much in evidence Sunday afternoon when troop 89 enjoyed an unexpected ski hike as the result of the heavy snow fall. A group of 14 Scouts made up the party who hiked to the Plum Hollow golf course and enjoyed an afternoon of sliding over the snow covered hills.

Connie said, "I am. I'm going on a vacation. The first I've ever had." And thought how true that was!

The man told her the bus left in 10 minutes. The ticket read, Asheville, North Carolina. That seemed a long distance for the price. At that rate she could cross the continent! She remembered she had not eaten any breakfast, or lunch. There was time for a milk shake and a sandwich.

Connie had never eaten from a counter before in all her life. The milk shake might have been champagne, the sandwich, caviar, it tasted so good. As she climbed down from the tall stool a woman, as wide as she was tall, carrying a baby, and with two other small children clinging close, came up to her.

"I wonder," she said, her face breaking into a broad smile, "if you'd kindly hold the baby while I pick up some packages I checked."

Connie accepted this charge with some trepidation, but then it smiled at her, revealing a dimple. It waved its chubby fists, clutched at her glasses, sent them spinning to the hard tile floor.

"Lucky they didn't break!" a voice remarked. And Connie glanced up to meet the amused grin of a young man who had stooped to retrieve them for her.

She murmured "Thanks!" but did not attempt to put them on again just then. The baby was swaying back and forth in her arms, cooing an accompaniment, so that it was all she could do to hold it. "You'll have to be still!" Connie gave it a little spank. Just a very little one, a mixture of authority and tenderness. But it did the trick. The baby started at her out of round eyes, began to suck its thumb. Its mother would have to hurry or Connie would miss her bus.

PEOPLE were boarding it now.

Connie glanced wildly around. She saw the young man who had rescued her glasses, but he would not be any help. Then she saw the woman waddling toward her, laden with bundles. "I'll hold a seat," she panted, sweeping past, leaving Connie to follow, managing the baby sort of balanced on one hip, since she had to carry her grip with one hand.

The bus was almost full. But the woman managed a place at the back; she pressed the two children into the seat next to hers. Connie struggled through, plunked the baby down on to the broad lap, struggled back up the aisle again, slipped gratefully into the nearest vacant seat.

"You didn't lose your baby, did you?" someone asked. She glanced up, startled, to meet the same amused glance of the same young man.

"It wasn't my baby," she said, with dignity.

He sat down beside her. "That's too bad," he said.

"Too bad!"

"Yes. It acted as though it belonged to you. But maybe you were kidnapping it." She saw that his dark eyes were amused, too. She laughed. "When I do, either kidnap or have one of my own, it won't be so violent," she said. "Though it was a very nice baby, at that."

Just then the bus started.

Connie was eager for this new adventure. And she was thinking too of this friendly young man, who sat beside her. Everybody was friendly. She never had liked people much before. They always had treated her as though she were not quite real. They stared at her, as though she were a sort of freak, just because she had been born to inherit so much money; some with curiosity, others with envy. Once a woman had become hysterical and had tried to tear a piece from her dress for a souvenir. Another time—Connie would never forget—a man had shaken his first in her face.

But now, as the bus left the traffic of the city behind, skimming over the wide, smooth road that stretched ahead for miles and miles, she—Katie Blyn—was one of them, these people enclosed in this little isolated world. The baby slept against its mother's breast, the woman nodded and smiled at Connie, and one of the children waved a stick of candy, offering a bite. Next to her the young man buried himself in his newspaper; across the aisle an old man slept.

Connie leaned back, closed her eyes. The motor purred, the tires hummed with a sing-song monotony to which her heart kept time. She must have dozed for awhile, then she came back to reality, that was unreal, really, so odd it seemed that she should be here, alone, unnoticed.

"Care to see the paper?" her seat companion asked.

Connie accepted it, thanking him. A moment later she almost exclaimed out loud.

GRANT DEFEATS RIGGS, BIDS FOR CUP TEAM AGAIN

Coral Gables, Fla., Jan. 10.—(AP)—Note to the United States Davis Cup committee: Betsy Grant, that scrapping little tennis man from Atlanta, is out for the team again. Betsy, with his usual disregard for the national rankings, added Bobby Riggs of Chicago—this country's No. 2 player—to his list of noted victims in the Miami Biltmore tournament yesterday.

It took him five sets and all his stamina to do it, but Grant won the tournament and permanent possession of Col. Henry L. Doherty's trophy—serving notice at the same time that young Mr. Riggs and all other Davis Cup hopefuls must contend with him once more. Riggs agreed to that himself after er Grant had taken his measure by a score of 3-6, 6-3, 7-9, 8-6, 6-3.

"I think it will be between Betsy and me for the singles spot with Budge on the team," he said. "I believe either of us can take care of Parker." Frankie Parker happens to enjoy the No. 3 national ranking, one notch ahead of Grant.

It has become an annual custom for Grant to topple one of the nation's stars in this tournament. Betsy won it last year by whipping Donald Budge, and trimmed Berkeley Bell in 1935.

Grant and Wilmer Hines of Hollywood, Calif., meet Gardner Mulloy and George Toley of the University of Miami today for the doubles laurels.

The most dangerous age for children is from 5 to 10, according to statistics of fatal accidents in England.

Fire Mrs. O'Leary's Cow Started—

What a fire that Chicago blaze of '71, supposedly started when Mrs. O'Leary's cow kicked over a lantern, must have been! Sweeping through block after block of wooden buildings, it destroyed most of the midwest's big metropolis. Here's the Hollywood version of the conflagration, staged for the movie, "In Old Chicago."

—Puts Hollywood on Water Wagon

After seeing the inferno into which flames turned the streets, it is easy to understand this picture of refugees from the searing heat huddled in the cooling and non-inflammable waters of Lake Michigan. In the foreground are Alice Faye, Tyrone Power and Alice Brady, high and dry on a wagon driven into the lake.

"The keenest anguish known to human nature is the pain of a new idea." (Bagehot). We hope this column brings you pain.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. E. G. Williamson, Director Testing Bureau, Minn. University, made the most careful study of this question yet made, on a large group of students and says, "Men with definite vocational choices, on the average, get no higher grades than do men with no recorded choice, whereas women with a choice, on the average, get lower grades than do women with no choice." Dr. Williamson urges this does not mean a student will automatically get better grades by drifting along, but, so often his choice is so unfitted to his real abilities that it does not help him get better grades. The remedy, Dr. Williamson thinks, is better vocational guidance.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. She still loves him—otherwise she would not care enough about him to hate him that much. A husband may have so abused a wife

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Dr. Edith Patch, entomologist, quoted by Science Service, doubts that we would be here at all if it were not for the insects. For example the northwestern fruit growers have sprayed their orchards but killed so many millions of honey bees that the bee keepers have had to move to other regions. Airplanes in the south spray the cotton to kill the gypsy moth but they kill all other insects that carry pollen and fertilize many crops.

Proposal To Lower
Postal Subsidies

New York, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Members of the postal committee of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association had before them today the suggestion of President Roosevelt in reply to a question at his press conference yesterday that the newspapers of the nation take the initiative in reducing postal subsidies which he said they now enjoy.

The publishers association said members of the postal committee were being polled for expressions and that a statement of their collective opinion might be released today.

Officials of other publishers' and editorial groups, mostly state or regional in character, who commented on Mr. Roosevelt's remarks, said that any change in class under which newspapers are sent in the mails would hit small dailies and weekly newspapers the hardest.

Newspapers and magazines now come under second class mail rates and get first class handling.

Gentlemen:

The Telegraph was in error last night in stating John H. Byers had served as a member of the General Assembly from the 35th District. Mr. Byers was never a member of the legislature of this state to my knowledge and I think a careful examination of the Illinois Blue Book will bear me out.

Several hereabouts who read the statements have asked me when Mr. Byers represented this district, hence I thought it well to call your attention to the error.

DUQUESNE, PA.
PLACED ON CIO
BASIS BY MAYOR

Duquesne, Pa., Jan. 10.—(AP)—Elmer J. Maloy, new Laborite mayor, put this city of 22,000 in the heart of the Pittsburgh steel district, on what he termed a CIO union basis today.

The 41-year-old CIO organizer, elected on the Democratic ticket last November and inaugurated last week, ordered a 40-hour, five-day week for all city employees, including 66 in the fire, street and police departments who had been working from 48 to 72 hours weekly.

Seventeen additional workers will be employed and the pay of laborers boosted from 62 1/2 cents to 75 cents an hour.

Despite the reductions in hours and the hiring of more workers, Maloy pledged to carry out the plan without increasing city taxes. In fact, he promised an annual saving of $7,000 through the elimination of unnecessary traffic lights, substitution of single tags for a triple traffic-tag system, and the merger of several jobs.

Under the new set-up, 22 policemen received $7 a day each, 22 firemen $6.90 a day each and fire engine drivers $7.75 a day.

Maloy said: "Firemen will work 130 hours less a month and will get $15 less pay a month. Policemen will draw $11 less a month and will work only five days a week."

Asked if he believed police and firemen would be satisfied with more spare time and less spare cash, Maloy replied: "Why, certainly, they're satisfied. This is a CIO program."

CONGRESS AND NEW DEAL

A majority of members of Congress privately would like to forsake the New Deal and give business men what they want. Members know they will be held responsible by the voters if the depression continues and they fail to provide the relief for business necessary to secure industry's cooperation. On the other hand Democratic members face a choice of "going along" with the President or being opposed in the primaries.—United States News

DO YOU KNOW ILLINOIS?

By EDWARD J. HUGHES,

Secretary of State

Q. When was Gen. James Shields elected to the U. S. Senate for Illinois?

A. January 13, 1849.

Q. Was Shields admitted to the Senate?

A. Not at this time. On arriving at Washington his eligibility was questioned on the grounds that he, a native of Ireland, had taken out his final papers eight months short of the nine years citizenship required for a seat in the U. S. Senate.

Q. Was Shields later seated?

A. Yes, another election was held after the disability had been removed by time.

Q. What was the internal improvement policy, known as "State policy?"

A. Policy of refusing the granting of charters for the construction of railroads unless the contemplated line should begin and end at some prominent town or city in the state.

Q. What was the origin of this policy?

A. The presentation of a resolution of the Indiana legislature requesting that Illinois should incorporate a company for the building of a railroad to be called the Ohio & Mississippi which was to have its starting point on the Ohio River at Cincinnati and terminate on the Mississippi at St. Louis.

Q. To what did fervor over "State policy" lead?

A. To a special session of the Illinois General Assembly which resolved that "A railroad commencing at our eastern boundary and terminating opposite St. Louis and also uniting with continuous lines of railroad extending eastward through our sister states would be immensely advantageous to St. Louis, at the same time it would impede the growth of the cities, towns, and other localities on the Illinois side of the Mississippi river."

Q. How did the next regular session of the legislature act on the Indiana proposal?

A. In 1851 the charter of the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad was passed.

Q. What other laws of general interest were passed by the General Assembly at this session (the 16th)?

A. Illinois Institution for the blind was established; the return to voting by ballot was made; laws for the loaning of money at such rate of interest not exceeding 10 per cent per annum were voted; telegraphs were established, and provision made for township and county organization.

Q. What was the population of Illinois at this time?

A. The census of 1850 gave Illinois a population of 851,470, an increase of nearly 80 per cent over 1840.

PROMISING FOR RETAILERS

Merchandising officials anticipate that retail sales during January will hold up surprisingly well considering the level of business activity. They concede, however, that volumes in the two ensuing months will be quite disappointing unless a sharp upturn in business occurs.—Journal of Commerce.
